

Comment by Chester H. Rowell

A HALF TRUTH—"Is he with the corporations or with the people?" used to be the slogan, to distinguish a progressive from a reactionary. It would not stand analysis, even then, as Roosevelt constantly pointed out, but it did serve as an easy practical test. The corporations had rights as well as wrongs, and a true progressive would protect those rights, both because they were rights and because it was in the interest of the people to do so. But the immediate task of the time was to eject the corporations from the wrongs they had been doing, so few mistakes were made in practice by applying the slogan, even though it was inaccurate and incomplete in principle.

Now comes the time when the real danger is in the indiscriminate application of that half-truth. There is a tendency still to jump at the conclusion that the "progressive" side is whatever side will injure big business. Sometimes it is; but quite as often it is not. And he who would always take the anti-business side is not a progressive, but a demagogue.

Progressivism was always favorable to the real rights of business. Its policies from the beginning were in the real interest of business, though business men were slow in finding it out. Now questions come up of railroad policy, of ship subsidy and of taxation, in which the interests of business may be identical with those of the people. At least, there are earnest students of public affairs who sincerely think so. But there are others who seek to monopolize the name "progressive" for the destructive half of the progressive spirit. Actually, most of the destructive work has been done.

The time has come for constructive. It is sheer thinking with the memory to apply the old slogan indiscriminately to new conditions, as some of the La Follette group of pseudo-progressives are inclined to do.

The spirit of progressivism, will survive, in any event. Whether the name remains useful will depend on how much of the twosidedness of Roosevelt remains attached to it.

CANNOT KEEP OUT—"But at least we ought to keep out of it," says Arthur Brisbane, referring to the war which he predicts between Eastern and Western Europe, "and THAT we can do." It only we could! If our neighbor's house is burning we can resolve to stay out of his house. But if that is all we do, the sparks soon ignite our own roof, and we have fire to deal with just the same.

"Let it burn" was a possible policy when we all lived on farms and the next house was a mile off. But when we live in towns we all unite to put out each fire, lest it spread and burn us too.

The world has become a town, with all its habitations close together and all its activities interlocked. If a conflagration starts anywhere, it cuts our wires and pipes and stops much of the current of our life immediately. If we merely wait, it finally extends to our district also.

We may resolve to keep out of the fire, but we cannot by mere resolving keep the fire out of us. Only the fire department can do that. And the fire department is useless unless we co-operate in it. The Brisbane precept is the counsel of the ostrich.

"WET" POLITICS FUTILE—President Harding is disappointed because the prohibition issue, instead of disappearing from politics with the Eighteenth amendment, threatens to dominate politics.

Precisely! But there is only one way to stop it. That is for the "wet" to quit their politics. They will do this whenever they realize that facts are facts. They are faced with two facts, neither of which politics can change. One is that, as the President has pointed out, the Eighteenth amendment is in the Constitution to stay. Thirteen States can keep it there and many more than thirteen will do so.

The other is that the only "modifications" of the Volstead act which could become laws even by passing them are those which do not permit any sort of intoxicating liquors, even beer and wine. The wets would not regard such modifications as worth doing politics for, even if they could get them. The only "modification" which they want is the authorization of some sort of intoxicating liquor. And that they cannot constitutionally get, under a constitution prohibiting it.

Against these immovable facts all politics is futile. The prohibition question will disappear from politics whenever those who know this also realize it.

LAME DUCKS—President Harding indicates that he cannot care for the "lame ducks" this year, since there are too many of them and he does not care to make invidious distinctions.

This whole "lame duck" problem is one of the most pitiful by-products of our political system. A "lame duck" is a defeated Congress.

WOULD FIX TERMS OF PAYMENT

U. S. Ready to Invite Powers to Conference on Reparations

HARDING LEADER IN NEGOTIATIONS

Government Removes Veil of Secrecy from Plan to Aid Europe

(Copyright, 1922, by United Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—The United States, as the outstanding move in its plan to avert a collapse in the old world, is about to invite the Europeans powers to make a final attempt to settle the German reparations problem, it was learned from the most authoritative sources here today.

The "plan" of the United States for intervention in the European situation, which has filled two continents with excitement and anticipation, partly because of the deep mystery surrounding it, can now be revealed by the United Press.

It follows:

1—Believing that reparations is the key to the present European crisis, the United States will participate in a commission or some other form of official inquiry to establish an exact figure for Germany to pay. It would be a figure that would constitute just reparations for the war—an amount that would be up to Germany's capacity to pay, but not beyond.

Plan American Aid.

2—If a settlement of the reparations problem can be effected by an agreement among the European powers on such a figure, the United States can give assurances that American bankers stand ready to advance a loan, with the proper securities, sufficient to put Germany on her feet and start her towards amortization of the indemnity.

Finally, the United States government is willing to adopt a more lenient policy on the question of collection of the allied war debt to this country; that is, it is ready to consider the obligations of each of the debtor countries on their own merits, granting more leniency in the terms of collection to those countries less able to pay.

Should this far-reaching program be worked out, the United States may later suggest other important international moves such as a pact to preserve peace and to limit land armament.

Delicate Proceeding.

The reason for the mysterious silence that has been maintained by official Washington since it first became evident that the United States intended to intervene in the European situation, is because of the delicate stage of the negotiations incident to putting the plan into effect.

This government by informal inquiries has been sounding out the European countries concerned to ascertain whether they would welcome such an offer of co-operation from America before extending a formal invitation.

In conversations and exchanges passing back and forth almost hourly between the United States and the governments of Europe, and President Harding, meeting today with his cabinet, developments may come at any time that will put the American plans into motion, or perhaps cause them to be dropped in failure.

Fear French Attitude.

It is admitted here that one of the greatest questions to success of the plan is the reception that will be given the suggestion by France. It is hoped France will co-operate. It is believed that this will be the only attempt by this country to aid in a settlement of the European problem, and the French will be so informed.

The United Press is informed emphatically by a high authority of the government that should France occupy the Ruhr or take some other such drastic step, the United States would protest most vigorously.

Prohibition Forces Plan "Dry" Spell For Holiday Season

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—A nationwide campaign to make this Christmas and New Year's the "driest" in history has been started by the federal prohibition bureau.

As Christmas draws near, every effort is being made by prohibition forces to dry up the flood of holiday liquors at their sources.

As part of the campaign, President Harding and state governors may appeal to the people to assist in enforcing the dry law. At the conference of the president and governors here yesterday, a preponderance of opinion favored such a move, according to an official statement.

Advance reports to prohibition bureau indicated an unprecedented amount of bootleg liquor intended for Christmas cheer already has been seized by dry forces.

SEVEN IRISH REBELS FACE DEATH SQUAD

DUBLIN, Dec. 19.—Seven more insurgents were executed by Free State authorities today.

Rebel leaders, aware that the death sentences were to be carried out at daybreak, ordered demonstrations in the vicinity of the jails where the prisoners were confined.

The doctored men in their last hours heard the distinct explosions of bombs being hurled by their friends, who dashed about the streets in fast motor cars.

Armed men stormed and burned the home of Gordon Campbell, son of Lord Glenavy, the senate chairman. The house was practically destroyed.

Those executed were convicted of possessing rifles, bombs and detonators, it was announced.

Today's executions brought to fifteen the total number of insurgents put to death.

YULETIDE MAIL RUSH BREAKS ALL RECORDS

More stamps were sold yesterday than on any other day in the history of the Santa Ana post office, C. D. Overholser, postmaster, said today. Stamps sales yesterday totaled more than $1200. The previous record, $960, was made last year at Christmas time, he said.

The cancellation machine, which takes only regular-size envelopes, yesterday exceeded its record of last year by 1000 exactly, according to L. F. Harvey, superintendent of mails. The machine stamped 29,100 letters yesterday. Less than three weeks ago the machine stood at zero. The dial today indicated that 372,190 letters had passed through the machine since that time.

Incoming sacks yesterday totaled 100, and outgoing 120, Harvey said. The mail now headed, is concentrating on nearby states. The biggest day of the post office here is expected when local Christmas cards and packages are mailed. Harvey urges early mailing even of local matter, and draws attention to the holiday system of package delivery.

"With each mailman and package wagon," he explained, "a boy is taken along to deliver the packages. Many persons seem to think the boy has no business ringing the doorbells, believing him to be a peddler, perhaps."

"He is working for Uncle Sam. Answer the bell quickly and more packages will be delivered before Christmas day."

COUNCIL OPENS MORALS DRIVE

FAIR GROUND SITE GROUP HITS SNAG

Committee Enters Session Faced by Prospect of No Aid from County

With confusion in its ranks and with acquisition of a fair grounds admittedly a matter doubtful of accomplishment, the permanent Orange county fair committee was prepared to go into session here today, faced by the prospect that county funds to assist in purchasing a site would not be forthcoming.

The committeemen had uppermost in their minds the statement of N. T. Edwards, supervisor, that the county did not include an appropriation in its budget for the county fair, and that no money was to be had for that purpose from that source.

"We'll either settle on the old fair site or none at all," W. B. Williams, president of the permanent fair board, asserted earlier in the day.

Matter "Up in Air"

"We had hoped to reach a decision this afternoon," Mr. Edwards' statement yesterday that no county money was available this year to aid the fair board in acquiring and developing grounds for the 1923 Orange county fair, leaves the fair board members in an uncomfortable predicament.

"It would seem that though we reached a decision on one of the three proposed sites, the expected county aid would not be forthcoming."

"Yet of the three sites, the old fair grounds call for the least money and under the circumstances would seem to be the place" to locate the fair. I am of the opinion we'll either settle on the old fair site or none at all."

Urges Various Sites

Varied interests have been pulling at the fair site committee and the permanent fair board since their forming several weeks ago, according to information.

Anahelm has proposed a site near the county hospital as central and more suitable than the old fair grounds southwest of Santa Ana. The county hospital site was estimated to cost $130,000. "Too much for that sandlot," declared Supervisor Edwards.

Advocates of a site at West Orange east of the Santa Ana river figured that the proposed grounds there would cost $150,000. The old fair grounds southwest of Santa Ana are declared on the market to the fair board for $68,000.

2 SEWER BONDS ARE VOTED AT FULLERTON

Residents of Fullerton today were proud of the record made yesterday when only twenty-three votes were cast against a bond issue for $75,000 to pay that city's share of cost of the joint outfall sewer to the ocean and thirty-one votes against the $175,000 issue to provide sewer lines for connecting with the Anaheim main levee to the joint outfall to be constructed by the cities of Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange.

The favorable vote for the first proposition was 505 and on the second it was 477. The total number of ballots cast, however, was a small percentage of the voting strength of the city.

The Fullerton council, it was expected today, will canvass the election returns at its session tonight.

AID FARMERS

FREDRICKSON, N. B.—As a result of representation made to the provincial government it is possible that New Brunswick will devise a system of manual aid to farmers somewhat similar to that in existence in Manitoba, where loans are granted on a 50 percent valuation of property, the money being borrowed by the government at 5 per cent and loaned to the farmers at 6 per cent.

SOLONS PLAN HIGHER RATE ON PENSIONS

Bill Before Conference Fixes Maximum Allowance at $125 All Vets to Benefit.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Senate and house conferees reached an agreement on the Bursum-Fuller pension bill early today. It is planned to press it for an early ratifying vote in both houses as a Christmas remembrance to soldiers and widows of the veterans of the Mexican, Civil and Indian wars and also for the maimed soldiers of all wars—including the World War.

It is declared to be the most comprehensive pension measure ever enacted. Rates for Mexican and Civil war veterans are increased to $72 a month; Indian war veterans are increased to $30, their widows to $20, while the maimed soldiers of all wars are placed in a special classification of rates ranging from $75 to $125 a month, the last named rate to veterans who lost both arms or both legs in action.

OFFER $10,000 FOR CAPTURE OF BANDITS

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 19.—The city of Denver today offered a reward of $10,000 for the capture, dead or alive, of any one of the bandits who yesterday killed a federal reserve bank guard and escaped with $200,000 from in front of the United States mint here.

The city offered $2500 for any information leading to the arrest and conviction of any of the bandits.

Police and federal officers have centered the search for the men in Denver. Officials were becoming more convinced that the bandits, instead of leaving the city, separated and are in hiding.

Two automobile loads of policemen were stationed in the neighborhood of the mint for an hour this morning. They refused to state what their purpose was. After an hour they returned to headquarters.

Rooming houses in the poorer section of the city were searched and underworld dives were gone through by officers.

Officials of the federal reserve bank today asked that a sharp watch be kept for new $5 bills, which made up the $200,000 stolen by the bandits.

The serial numbers of the bills are from $20,852,001 to 20,876,000 are from 20,852,001 to 20,876,000.

Officials expect a battle if the bandits are found together. Their sensational holdup yesterday was much like the work of the famous Lewis gang members who operated in the middle west a few years ago and which was finally broken up by the capture of its principal members in a gun battle near Colorado Springs in which two officers were killed.

BANDITS GET $4000 WATERLOO, Ia., Dec. 19.

Shell Oil Company Is Given Permission To Erect Plant Here

Disclosing the intention of the Shell Oil company to institute a $3,000,000 distributing organization in Southern California, C. M. Carson, company representative, last night asked the city council here for permission to build a distributing system on Santa Fe property on Fruit street, near Santiago street.

Permission was granted. It was intimated that the work would begin at once. A steel tank to hold 25,000 gallons of gasoline is included in the proposed installation.

$750,000 IN DRUGS TAKEN IN GOTHAM

Morphine and Cocaine Found Hidden in Fish Cargo on French Ship From Spain

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The largest seizure of narcotics in New York for several years was made on a Brooklyn pier by federal customs agents today.

The officers, investigating a consignment of fish, discovered among the barrels, 11 cans of morphine and cocaine, each can being five inches high and 1 1/2 feet in diameter.

The "dope" valued at many thousands of dollars, was said to have been smuggled in with the cargo of a French freighter from Spain.

Federal agents said the drugs were worth $750,000.

LIQUOR RAIDS BRING HEAVY FINES HERE

Pleading guilty to charges of violating the city liquor ordinances, four of the five alleged bootleggers arrested in the raids conducted Saturday night by city police and district attorney's operatives, were today fined $300 each.

Cecil and Dorline Moon, 411 1/2 East Chestnut street, pleading guilty to vagrancy charges, paid $60 each and were given suspended sentences of 60 days each, provided that they leave Santa to return no more.

Evelyn Tripp pleaded not guilty to violation of the liquor laws, and her case was set for trial January 8 at 10 a. m. She was being held in default of $500 bail.

Robert Johnson, Robert Pitts, D. Pitts and Rufus Nicholas were assessed $300 when they pleaded guilty. Unable to furnish the money today, they were remanded to jail.

Vagrancy charges were preferred against Jack Beardsley and Clyde English, who were found in the Keystone apartments when the raid was made. In addition, English was facing charges of petty larceny, brought by Game Warden Ed Adkinson, who alleged that English stole a quantity of money from him several months ago. Authorities had been searching for English for some time, but came upon him by accident during the raid.

JERNIGAN DECIDES ON CHIEF DEPUTY

Sheriff-elect Sam Jernigan is gradually building up the staff which is to assist him in carrying out his work as sheriff after he takes office January 8.

Today came the unofficial announcement that Miss Cora M. Kurrie, 611 West Bishop street, will receive the appointment as stenographer and chief deputy. Following closely upon Jernigan's announcement yesterday of his intention to retain Deputy Sheriff Herman Zabel as head of the county bureau of identification, today's rumor, which proved to be well founded, served to intensify the interest in the situation.

Miss Kurrie has been employed by Attorney James Allen as a stenographer for several months past. She is said to be well acquainted with the legal phases of the work. She will succeed Mrs. Birdie Swanwick, present chief deputy, who declined an offer of reappointment.

Jernigan was today touring the county in search of information upon which he might base his selection of deputies, he said. Although declining to give out any additional information, he intimated that "it would not be long" until the entire list of appointees would be made public.

NEW SPLIT LOOMS IN PARLEY

British Give Turks and Russians 24 Hours to Accept Terms

DELAY AROUSES IRE OF ALLIES ENVOY

Threaten Abandonment of Straits Program In Latest Defy

(United Press Leased Wire)

LAUSANNE, Dec. 19.—Foreign Minister Curzon of Great Britain today announced that unless the Turks accept the allied project for freedom of the Dardanelles by tomorrow, the Near East peace conference will be terminated.

This virtual ultimatum was communicated to the Turkish delegates, who are considering it.

Curzon declared it was impossible for the allies to accept either the Russian or the Turkish counter proposals for settlement of the straits problem. Hence, he said, it was imperative that the Russians and Turks give their final answer on the allied project.

Foreign Minister Tchitcherine delivered a long speech against the allied project, but Ismet Pasha, the Turk envoy, asked more time. Curzon thereupon flatly fixed tomorrow for the final session on the straits. At that session he said the Turks must accept or the conference ends.

Inter-alled police have "repeatedly violated the sanctity of Turkish homes," during occupation of Constantinople, the Turks declared in a memorandum to the minorities committee.

The troops entered hundreds of homes, tearing former Christian wives and their children from arms of their husbands and against their will turned the women to their Armenian domiciles, the memorandum charged.

Stories that Christian women were forced into Turkish harems were characterized as "legendary." When the modern Turk marries a Christian woman the marriage is voluntary on her part and she accepts the religion of the husband in consequence, it was asserted.

The Turkish delegates declared hundreds of babies and older children of these voluntary marriages were forced by allied police to go to Armenian homes.

Later, it was explained that Curzon meant—in serving his ultimatum to the Turks—that the conference regarding settlement of the Straits would be terminated tomorrow unless Ismet Pasha accepted the allied proposal. However, it was said the conference would continue to discuss other phases of the Near East settlement.

Declaring that the need for a modern, fire-proof hospital in this community is becoming recognized and appreciated by residents of this vicinity, Dr. A. C. Zeiser, today asserted that a fine spirit of co-operation is being shown by residents of the Santa Ana valley in the campaign being conducted for such an institution.

Dr. Zeiser is captain of the "red" team of physicians engaged in a contest to obtain the greatest amount of subscriptions to the fund for building the new hospital.

"A number have stated their regret that they could not do more at this time and have assured me that they will be glad to give further consideration in the new year if conditions then warrant," Dr. Zeiser said. "There is no finer service anyone can perform at this Christmas time than to help make this hospital a reality at the earliest possible date. Anyone desiring to assist in providing the community with a modern hospital plant by subscribing to the fund should communicate with his physician."

gressman or Senator, who needs a political appointment in order to make a living. Frequently he has held important governmental responsibilities for many years. He may have been Governor, as well as Representative and Senator, and have attended well to the public business. But he finds himself out of office with no available way to make a living in private business. All the people have employed him, but no one of them seems inclined to do so. So he seeks an appointive job, for which he has perhaps neither liking nor capacity purely for the salary thereof.

It is an undignified and humiliating spectacle, for the nation as well as for the individuals concerned. It would probably be cheaper, as well as more fitting to pension them outright. But there is apparently no escaping it. Public life, in our government, does not pay. And it rather unfits than fits most men for availability in private careers. (Copyright, 1922, All Western Syn.)

COUNCIL OPENS WAR TO DUST WET FORCES

Ryan as a member of the police force was accepted, effective January 1. Ryan was elected a constable of Santa Ana township at the last election. Earl Lentz was appointed to the force to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Orrin Moncrief, effective last Friday.

An application of George Mullen, 402 1-2 North Broadway, for park work, was filed.

A contribution of $100 was made to the Santa Ana Musical association for the community Christmas tree exercises to be held here next Sunday evening.

A petition from property owners asking improvement of Cubbon street, from Birch to Flower streets with rock and oil, was referred back to the petitioners for the signatures of three more resident owners. It is estimated that the work will cost 65 cents a running front foot.

A petition from the Yoch company, inc. for street light on Sycamore street, 150 feet south of Washington avenue, was referred to the street commissioner.

Petition for paving Bachman street to its end east from Main under improvement proceedings was referred to the city engineer for checking.

A resolution was adopted ordering paving of Artesia street from First to Fifth street and one block on West Third street. Resolutions were adopted ordering plans and specifications for paving the east side of South Main street from Edinger street south to the city limits; West First, from Baker to Artesia; Myrtle from Flower to Baker; Twentieth from Main east to the Southern Pacific tracks and Santa Clara avenue east from Main to Bush street.

The street superintendent was directed to post West Tenth street, from Sycamore to Ross, prohibiting heavy truck traffic on the street.

Petition for electric light at Seventeenth and Mabury streets was granted.

W. A. Greenleaf, councilman, was granted permission to leave the state. He contemplates spending Christmas with his brother, Mel Greenleaf, at Yuma.

To Start Anew
Proceedings for improving East-side avenue were rescinded because of an error and will be started anew.

City Attorney G. H. Scott was directed to prepare a contract with E. W. Harmon for a three-year lease on the city sewer farm, with rental at $1500 per year, the city to furnish sewer water needed for irrigation. Harmon was the only bidder for a lease on the farm.

Wells and Easler were awarded a contract for paving East Walnut street, Halladay to Cedar, on their bid of 25 3-4 cents a square foot for six-inch paving; 50 cents a lineal foot for house sewer connections and 50 cents a lineal foot for curb.

Resolutions passed by the board here recently asking the council to call an election to vote bonds for paving West Fifth street; for supplying additional water mains and for additional fire protection in the industrial district, were filed.

Further steps in the building of an outfall jointly with Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange were taken when the council instructed the city clerk to advertise for bids for constructing the treatment plant near Talbert road. Bids will be opened at 7 p. m., January 8.

Renewal with the Edison company of a contract for maintenance of the ornamental lighting system on Main and Fourth streets will be taken up by the council as a committee of the whole, under action taken last night. It was disclosed that the contract expired last May.

KIWANIS CLUB TO ELECT OFFICERS

Members of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club today were prepared to cast their ballots for new officers of the club at a weekly meeting at St. Ann's Inn at noon tomorrow, following publication of a list of nominations made by the nominating committee.

Robert A. Atkinson, manager of the Appleby Motor company, and O. H. Barr, president of the Barr Lumber company, have been nominated for president.

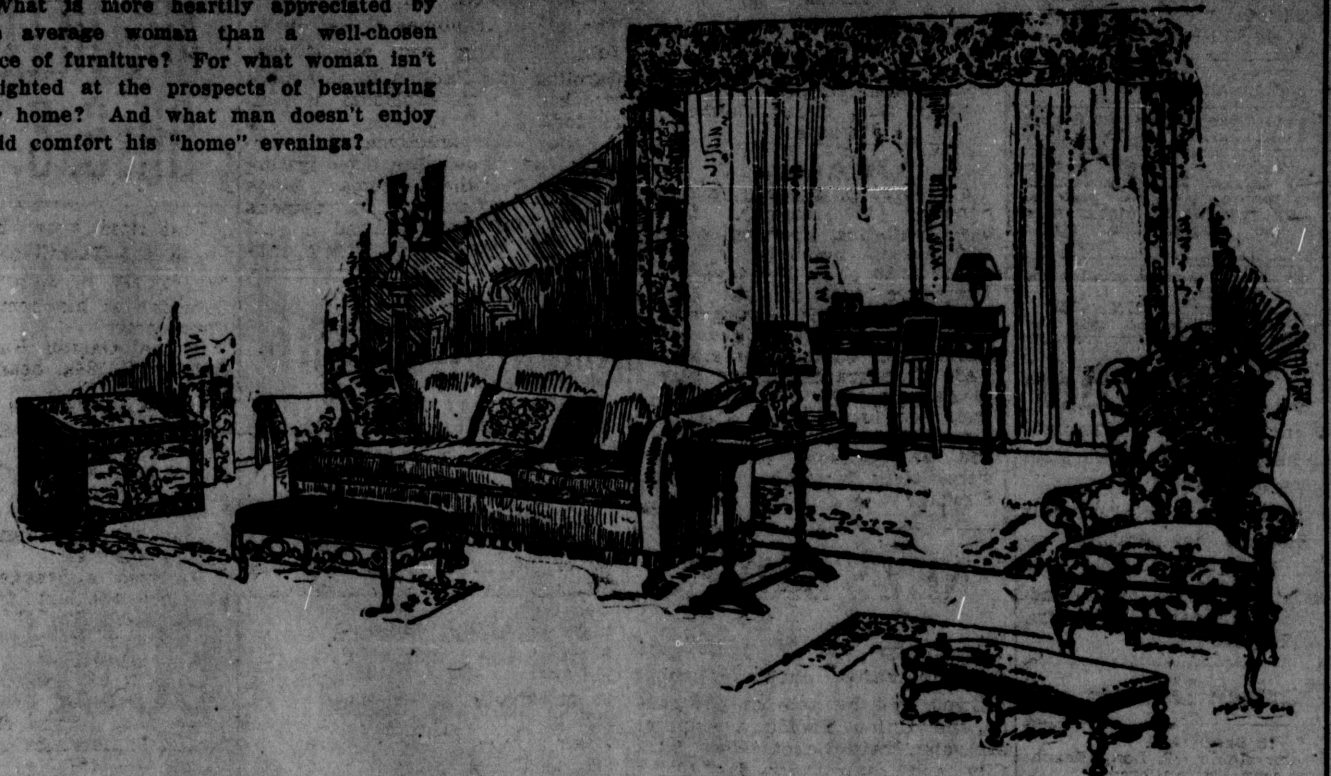

Other nominations follow: Vice President, R. R. Miller and T. A. Winbigger; treasurer, F. C. Blauer and T. A. Winbigger; district trustee, O. H. Barr and G. R. Wells; directors, nine to be elected, Neal Beisel, F. C. Blauer, J. A. Cranston, Earl Fraser, O. A. Haley, John Knox, R. R. Miller, H. G. Nelson, Nat Neff, Arnold Peek, Ward Sutton and A. N. Zerman.

A large number of members of the local club went to Fullerton at noon today to visit the club of that city.

COAST CATCHES INCREASE
VANCOUVER, B. C.—Pacific coast catches of fish for the month of October were: Halibut, 23,835 cwt., against 20,360 in a like period last year; herring, 114,184 cwt., against 114,325 cwt. last year; salmon, 98,176 cwt., against 118,576 cwt. A large catch of pilchards, amounting to 13,714 cwt., was taken off Vancouver Island.

"Globe-trotting joy dispensers." is the title applied to the members of the University of California Glee club, who are achieving international fame with their unique glee club performances, and who will be in Santa Ana January 4, for an evening concert at the Yost theater.

Press notices from China, Japan, and Europe give the boys an enthusiastic commendation for their program of songs, instrumental acts, and vaudeville stunts. The members of the club are not gifted novices, but are picked artists of a professional type. "Brick" high school.

Morse, director of the club, never allows an act to go on unless it is finished, it is said, and as a result has succeeded in producing a club that is winning increased fame from coast to coast. Twenty-five members, the full club, will be in Santa Ana all day January 4. They will give an afternoon entertainment at the local club performances, and who will

MOUNTED POLICE TRAVEL
OTTAWA, Ont.—The Royal Canadian Mounted Police always get their man no matter where the chase may lead or what time it may take them to achieve their end. An illustration of this well-known fact is furnished in the recent trip taken by Sergeant
Fred Syme of this city, who traveled 1,500 miles to bring to justice a man who was believed to have been responsible for the death of an Indian in the James Bay district through selling him bad liquor.

PEACE RIVER OIL FOUND
VICTORIA, B. C.—Explorations under the direction of the provincial government have established indications of oil of high grade in the Peace River District of British Columbia, according to reports tabled in the legislature before the close of the present session. Covering the activities of the exploration parties from 1919 to date, the report states that in the drilling operations coal and gas were also discovered, the gas in one instance being pumped into camp and used by the exploration party for heating and cooking during the season's operations.

MINIMUM AMOUNT OF COAL REQUIRED

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 19.—
Continuation of the present policy of requiring the mining of a minimum amount of coal at each operation on leased Government lands in twelve Western states, taken into account with the production of mines now operating on private lands, promises to result in a total annual coal mine capacity in that region of 80,000, 000 tons within two years, declares Director H. Foster Bain of the United States Bureau of Mines in a memorandum submitted to the United States Coal Commission. As the maximum war-time market for coal from these states was 40,000,000 tons per year, the large production indicated seems certain to bring about the same unhealthy condition, the same loss of capital, and the same distress among miners in the Western coal mining industry that was so marked a feature of 1921 in the coal industry of the East and Middle West.

"The general leasing law of February 25, 1920, is mandatory so far as requiring the secretary of the interior to divide the land into leasing blocks is concerned, but it apparently permits his discretion as to when and by what general method leases shall be granted," states Director Bain.
"In practice, coal leases thus far have been given to any qualified applicant who took the necessary steps and gave the required guaranties, and that, doubtless, is what public opinion has expected. The department can not, however, without violation of the plain intent of the law, grant leases without setting up requirements as to minimum production per annum. It was clearly not the intent of congress that leases should be granted to tie up land for long periods for speculative purposes. So each lease granted must require the mining of a minimum amount of coal per year and the giving of effective bond for performance. The results that flow from this seem to have been overlooked by the lessees and others. If the department should refuse to grant any more coal leases in the region indicated until demand was within some reasonable percentage of proposed output, there would doubtless be severe criticism. The public must soon in its own interest take more thought as to such conditions and be prepared to sus-tain remedial legislation. There is need and room here for real conservation."

The states affected by the coal leasing program are California,
Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota,
Oregon, South Dakota, Utah,
Washington and Wyoming. Coal is also being produced to a limited extent in Alaska, but under the provisions of separate legislation.

night, breaking the cold grip of the silver thaw and melting the snow which had fallen ten days ago and had clung tenaciously ever since. Many points in southern and eastern Oregon also reported warmer weather today.

FUNERAL RITES ARE HELD FOR
DR. S. G. HUFF

Last rites were held at the Smith and Tutthill chapel here today for Dr. S. G. Huff, who died Saturday at his home, 1077 West
First street.

Samuel Gaston Huff was born
October 4, 1846, near Salem, Marion county, Ill.

He graduated from the Washington Medical college, St. Louis, Mo., and practiced medicine in Nebraska, Illinois and California over a period of 50 years.

For 10 years he was superintendent of the San Bernardino county hospital.

He lived in Orange county for 20 years, the last two years in Santa Ana. For 10 years he was a trustee of the Huntington Beach union high school.

January 28, 1921, he married
Mrs. Martha A. Price, who survives him. Four children by a former marriage also survive,
Ralph C. Huff, Mrs. Ola H. Pann,
Mrs. Bertha Brown of Huntington
Beach and Harry S. Huff, of Orange, and a sister, Caroline Middleton, Millville, Cal.

Dr. Huff was an unusual man in the breadth of his sympathies and in his unselfish helpfulness. He ever sought to discover the best that is in men. He held strong, positive convictions of right and wrong, but ever had respect for the other fellow's viewpoint.

His genuinely friendly nature just made true friends, until it can be said:

"None knew him but to love him,
None named him but to praise."

In early manhood he became a Christian, and his faith in Christ was the constant joy of his life.

Funeral services were held at 1:30 p. m., the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating.

Pall bearers were W. T. Newland, R. L. Obarr, R. E. Larter, P.
W. Elliott, Earl Farrar, B. T. Got-ard.

4 SEAMEN PERISH IN LAKE SHIP DISASTER

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., Dec.
19.—Captain John McPherson and three other men lost their lives when the tug Reliance was wrecked last Wednesday, it was learned here today.

The information was contained in a wireless message from Captain D. A. Williams, commander of the ill-fated tug. The men were swept into the icy waters of Lake Superior when they attempted to lower a lifeboat to escape from the Reliance, the message said.

The liquor included Scotch whiskey and a quantity of choice champagne.

Thomas Davis and Robert Lasalle were arrested and the motor truck in which they were alleged to have been found moving the liquor towards its destination was confiscated.

SOCIETY

Woodsey Scene Offers Background for F. A. U. Program

Modern Woodman hall where the Fraternal Aid union meets regularly, was recently transformed into a snow-clad forest scene in honor of the Christmas program of the union.

Cotton sparkling with artificial snow, gave the effect of veritable snow banks against which stood in vivid relief, the small evergreens of a Christmas forest. English ivy draped from the ceiling added to the woody effect while silver rain fell in the form of long garlands of tinsel.

The artistic and beautiful effect offered a harmonious setting for the program and Mrs. Frank Harris with her efficient decorating committee including William Caseman and many others, received many words of commendation for their work.

With Miss Dorothy Head as leader, the junior high school orchestra covered itself with glory in adding to the musical program which was directly concerned with the Yuletide season.

Under the direction of Mrs. Frances Gardner the program opened with "Holy Night, Silent Night" with Miss Mead at the piano. A series of tableaux followed, shepherds' scene with solo "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night," sung by Henry Bowe; manger scene with song, "Asleep in the Manger," by Louise Warhurst; wise men with song, "Little Town of Bethlehem," by Henry Scroff; mother and babe by Mildred Adams with song, "Tush My Babe," by Helen Lucks.

These tableaux were followed by recitations, "Our Baby's Stocking," Isabel Brown; "Dolly," Helen Gardner; "My Christmas Wish," Randall Gardner; "Coming of Santa," Ruth Riley.

Small children giving recitations were Elizabeth Nelson, Beryl Ludlow, Barbara Cain, Laura Nelson, Billy Knight, Ralph Lambert and Joyce Westworth.

Two little girls dressed in ruffled frocks representing French dolls, were taken from large boxes and gave cunning little dances after which five cute little children in nightgowns and night caps carrying lighted candles, came marching in and announced the coming of Santa.

The Christmas trees were suddenly lighted and Santa proved to be not Mr. but Mrs. Santa Claus, a part ably taken by Mrs. Frank Harris, who with her assistants pleased the small guests with a fine Christmas treat of candy, apples and peanuts. The older folks came in for their share of the treat as well.

Too much cannot be said of the committee in charge for their untiring efforts in making this a memorable Christmas for the children of the members of the F. A. U. and of the splendid music furnished by the junior high school orchestra.

Ebell Travelers

The Yuletide season figured prominently in decorations, menu, entertainment and conversation at the luncheon with which Mrs. I. W. Van Cleave and Mrs. W. L. Tubbs entertained members of Ebell's First Travel section yesterday at the Van Cleave home, 317 Halesworth street.

A woody-brown basket filled with holly centered the attractive luncheon table where guests found their places by means of dainty Christmas cards. Yuletide colors were further emphasized in nut-cups and other details of the table where a most delicious luncheon was enjoyed.

Birthday Party Offers Pleasure To Happy Youngsters

It was a happy group of children that last Saturday afternoon gathered at the home of Miss Gladys Vest, 1002 West Second street, to join her in a birthday frolic.

Christmas colors of red and green were used in adorning the home and quantities of gay Christmas bells added to the decorative effect. The afternoon was spent in playing many merry games both indoors and out on the lawn and was brought to a happy climax at the refreshment hour when Gladys led the way to the diningroom where ice cream, punch and wafers were served with a lovely birthday cake marked by eleven glowing candles.

Mrs. Vest was assisted in entertaining her little daughter's guests by the Misses Lida and Virginia Vest and by Mrs. Scott Wiley and those present in addition to the little birthday honoree were Doris Dysart, Evelyn Dysart, Lorraine Smith, Imogene Smith, Wanda Gilbert, Ethel Gilbert, Alice Willes, Evelyn Hunter, Gertrude Avis, Marguerite Avis, Marcene Cook, Julie Hartley, James Siefert, Howard Rash, Herbert Haines and Emerson Burgess.

Laguna Beach Wedding Of Local Interest

Of interest to a wide circle of friends was the announcement of the marriage Saturday, December 16, in Laguna Beach of Miss Claudia Huff to Dana Ross Sweetser of this city. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. A. H. Burkholder and immediately after the congratulations which followed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Sweetser took their departure for a honeymoon trip.

Upon their return, the young couple will establish a home in Laguna Beach, where they will be at home to their friends shortly after the first of the year.

Chapter A-B-P-E-O.

Some time ago when members of Chapter A. B. P. E. O. were instructed to write their Christmas letters to Santa Claus, setting forth their heart's desire, they failed to anticipate the keen enjoyment in store for them when those wishes were gratified.

For at their Christmas party yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. E. Gowen, with Mrs. Gowen, Mrs. C. E. Hilton, Mrs. Lewis Moulton and Mrs. L. L. Whitson entertaining, each one found her cherished dream realized on the Christmas tree where Santa Claus had hung his gift. The result was a hilariously merry afternoon as members displayed their gifts and read the clever verses accompanying each. In addition to the clearly burlesqued presents "from Santa Claus" each of the thirty members also received a lovely gift from a P. E. O. sister.

A pleasant feature of the afternoon was the quaint "Jack-in-the-box dance" presented in appropriate costume by Miss Marguerite Lentz, daughter of Mrs. Norbert Lentz. Refreshments also added their share to the pleasure of the event, and were partaken of in full sight of the attractive Christmas tree and ere its dismantling began.

Missionary Society

To add interest to the meeting of the Missionary society of the Congregational church, in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon, was the announcement made today that Mrs. B. D. Peterson will be present and has consented to give her impressions of Mazatlan where the Woman's Board of Missions of the Pacific maintains a mission. Mrs. Peterson's talk promises an unusual amount of interest as her stay in Mazatlan was accompanied by a power to see and retain the beauty and foreign charm and she is likewise capable of presenting her impressions so that her hearers see the same scenes.

Local Talent to Be On Fullerton Program

When members of the First Methodist church of Fullerton meet Friday night at the church recreation hall, it will be to enjoy a "feast of reason and a flow of soul" in addition to the banquet menu to be served by the Ladies' Aid society.

Santa Ana will be quite well represented on the program since the Rev. Will A. Betts of the local First Methodist church is scheduled to give the address of the evening. In addition to the appearance of the Rev. Mr. Betts, will be that of Miss Margaret Wickes of the high school music department who will appear in a series of piano solos featuring some of the poems of James Whitcomb Riley.

Among the musical selections will be included a number of trios (violin, cello and piano) presented by Ronald Collis, Henri C. Babize and Isabelle Ginter while Miss Arlene Rohrer of the College of Music of the University of California will sing.

Haoma Sanctorum

Members of the I. O. O. F. and their friends were eagerly anticipating the dance to be given to night at Odd Fellows' hall by the Haoma Sanctorum. Christmas effects will be used in the decorations and an unusually pleasant program of dance music will offer invitation to flying feet. The fame of the sanctorum members as hosts is going abroad and their Christmas dance tonight is expected to be one of the most successful of the year.

Romantic Engagement Comes as Surprise To Many Friends

A wave of engagement festivities for Miss Peggy Smart, daughter of J. S. Smart, 806 North Main street, and one of the popular young members of the social set, will undoubtedly follow the announcement of her engagement to Mr. Carson Smart, made at a sorority tea given Saturday by Mrs. Homer Young of Los Angeles at the Ambassador tea room.

Twelve Alpha Chi Omega sisters of Miss Smart made up the guest list together with her sister, Miss Helen Smart, a teacher in the Los Angeles schools and last year a member of the Santa Ana teaching force.

The announcement of the engagement was made by means of tiny cards in white envelopes attached to corsage bouquets of sweet peas, one for each guest. The engagement came as a decided surprise to the friends of Miss Smart who failed to realize the rapidity of the courtship.

Miss Smart and her fiancé have been close neighbors for several years, their North Main street homes adjoining. But despite that fact their acquaintance began only last May, due to the continued absence from home of each, as they pursued studies and travels.

Miss Smart is connected with the Spanish department of the Junior high school while Mr. Smart is with the bureau of power and light in the department of public service, Los Angeles.

Among the immediate festive events planned to do honor to the engagement will be a dance on December 27 at the Sharon Inn, Long Beach, with Miss Jane Stanley as entertaining hostess; a bridge tea on December 28 at the Los Angeles home of Mrs. Ray Bronson and a dancing party again on Friday, December 29, with Miss Mildred Finch, an Alpha Chi Omega sorority sister of Miss Smart, entertaining in Los Angeles.

Plans for the wedding of the popular young people, remain obscure as the event will take place before summer or possibly early fall.

Camp Baldy Offers
Week-end Charm
To Visitors

One of the happy pre-holiday affairs was the week-end party at Camp Baldy with which Mr. and Mrs. Remus Fipps entertained a group of their friends.

"The Hut" was the scene of the gayeties connected with the visit and bridge and other "indoor sports" vied with the lure of the trail in offering entertainment. One of the pleasant events of the stay was the delicious chicken dinner served on Sunday by the hostess. Another was the Christmas party when a small tree was decked with brightly colored ornaments and pretty gifts for each.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Fipps were Mr. and Mrs. James L. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Archie C. Snodgrass, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar A. Schildmyer and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sawyer.

Sons of Veterans

Pleasant reminiscences today of last night's meeting of the Sons of Veterans at G. A. R. hall were divided between the splendid staff of officers elected and the happy surprise supper with which the evening ended at the Auto Park Camp home of L. A. Ludwig, retiring commander of the organization.

Election resulted with Walter Sombery named as commander assisted by senior vice commander, E. J. Parker; junior vice commander, Floyd Thurston; camp council, E. A. Bell, C. F. Miller and George Wilbur. Appointive officers will be named at the next meeting and installation ceremonies will be January 8, 1923 when joint installation will be observed with the Daughters of Veterans.

Election concluded, Commander Ludwig asked the comrades to put themselves in his hands. By following his leadership, all reached the auto park where they found Mrs. Ludwig and a number of fellow-workers awaiting their coming with a welter roast all in readiness to enjoy. With the weiners and buns, were served pickles, fruit, doughnuts and coffee to the complete surprise and enjoyment of over twenty members of the organization.

Warm Congratulations Follow Wedding In San Bernardino

Congratulations and good wishes were today being showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Moore, when friends became acquainted with the news of their marriage yesterday at San Bernardino.

Accompanied by Mr. Moore's parents, Jr. and Mrs. W. C. Moore, 1819 Bush street, the young people motored to the Gate City where the marriage occurred at 1 o'clock. Their return to this city was followed by Mr. and Mrs. Moore taking possession of cozy quarters at 1118 North Sycamore street where they will be at home to their many friends.

Mrs. Moore was formerly Ida May Heilmann, a Los Angeles girl who during her connection with the office of W. F. Menton as stenographer, has made many friends in this city. Mr. Moore has resided in Santa Ana for several years and is a World War veteran and a Legionnaire. He is connected with the advertising department of Hill and Son, Hardware company.

Day Nursery Plans For Christmas

There will be a wonderful Christmas party at the Day Nursery tomorrow when Mrs. A. H. Taylor, matron of the little white cottage, will gather together all the small people who have been under her charge from time to time since last summer.

Some of them have moved away or been lost track of but at least fifty children are expected to gather at the nursery to enjoy a chicken dinner at 12 o'clock and a beautiful Christmas tree immediately afterward.

Money donations from many warm friends are making the affair possible. The tree was furnished by the city's public spirited men and the Sunday school children of the Baptist church gave candy and toys for the tree. Mrs. Taylor will complete the decorations and hanging of gifts tonight and the tree will occupy a prominent position in the nursery living room, there to remain during the holidays.

Ladies' Aid Society

Mrs. Joseph S. Wasser, 731 Mortimer street, will be hostess to the members of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church, tomorrow afternoon, December 20 at 2 o'clock. It has been stated that much sewing remains to be completed and a full attendance is desired.

DARING BANDIT GANG KIDNAPS S. A. VICTIM

Home after four hours of thrilling experiences, William May, 705 South Flower street, member of the May Motor company here, was today reciting to his friends the details of the daring robbery in which he was the victim late Sunday night.

May was driving along Whittier boulevard east of the cemetery, he said, when a machine in front of him was stopped by a group of bandits, about eight in number. Before he could pull out, three men and two women, faced him, armed with revolvers. "They were hard looking," May said, "and told me that they would shoot if I didn't stick up my hands. They relieved me of $50, but I managed to slip off my watch and ring before they got to them."

"Then they ordered me into the back seat, while they drove the car into the Pasadena foothills. It is a lonely road, and they told me that they would surely shoot if I made any trouble."

"After a time, they got out, and again threatening me, told me to stay where I was until they left. Then they drove away in my car, and I started back to Los Angeles. I walked about twelve miles before I came to a boulevard."

"Everyone whom I halted thought that I was a bandit, and passed me by. Sometimes they even attempted to run over me. Finally when I reached Los Angeles, about 4 a. m. yesterday, I reported the affair to police."

The missing car had not been located, and no trace of the bandits had been found.

FAMILY QUARANTINED FOR SMALL POX CASE

Six members of the Fierro family, Delhi, were in quarantine today, as a result of the discovery yesterday, by County Health Officer Leland Mitchell, M. D., of a case of smallpox.

Emisto Fierro, the 6-year-old son, was found to be suffering from a fairly mild attack of the malady. Precautions were taken against the spread of the disease. Dr. Mitchell said, and the remaining members of the family were warned not to leave the house.

This is one of the first cases of small pox discovered hereabouts in some time, Mitchell learned, but despite that fact he saw no cause for alarm in the situation, he said.

LOCAL TEACHERS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

A meeting of much interest to many Santa Ana people is the convention of the Spanish teachers of America to be held at Los Angeles Friday, December 22, at the University of Southern California. Miss Anna Trythall, Miss Lella Watson and Miss Ruth Frothingham, of the high school faculty, and Miss Albra Smart, of the Junior high school faculty, expect to be present at the gathering.

Spanish teachers from all parts of America will be present, and prominent speakers have been scheduled for the different sessions.

SPURGEON CHURCH TO FORM SCOUT COMPANY

Troop 12, Boy Scouts of America, will be organized at the Spurgeon Memorial church Friday night, according to plans laid at a preliminary meeting last night.

Assistant Scout Executive Victor Teaney outlined the plans for the new troop to a group of church men. A committee, consisting of C. C. Widney, K. E. Morrisons, Thomas Hunter, Cleve Sedoris and Lester Slaback was appointed to take charge of the affairs of the new troop. The Rev. Moffat Rhodes, pastor of the church, will be scoutmaster. Mr. Rhodes has had eight years of experience in Boy Scout work. The troop will be limited to twelve members at first.

YULE SHOPPERS GIVEN "GOOD HUMOR" TIPS BY GIRL

Way to Save Wear, Tear on Clerks', Customers' Nerves Outlined

STORES OPEN NIGHTS

Many Last-Minute Purchases Yet to Be Made Says M. & M. Man

Santa Ana stores for the convenience of late Christmas shoppers will remain open tomorrow evening and Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, P. S. Lucas, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, again emphasized here today.

"Merchants declare that their customers have been doing Christmas shopping early this year," Lucas said. "Nevertheless, they realize that there will be a tremendous number of last-minute purchases made."

To prepare for those final moments, Miss Ruth Griffin, a clerk employed by a hardware company here has compiled a list of suggestions to customers and clerks that if followed she believes would materially aid in bringing satisfaction to both parties at the close of the Christmas shopping season.

"The clerk," Miss Griffin said, "should be ready to receive the customer and to provide for his needs in an affable manner. The customer, on his part, should also make some preparation for his shopping tour."

"One thing that the customer could do and save the clerk many miles of walking is by following the clerk to the cash register to complete a purchase."

"Usually a transaction is begun in the front of the store. The clerk then returns to the rear counter to wrap the purchased article, goes back to the customer for the money, returns again to the cash register, which customarily also is at the rear of the store then must walk again to the front of the store to deliver the change. The clerk's time and the customer's good humor too may be saved considerably if when entering the store, the customer will announce his business. Does he

TEMPESTS, MUTINY BRAVED IN WOMAN'S TOUR AROUND WORLD

MRS. A. Y. GOWAN

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The next time her husband takes his yacht "Speejack" on a round-the-world tour, Mrs. A. Y. Gowan, Cleveland, will ask the Fiji Islands to be left out.

"The people are warm-hearted, but their ideas of hospitality are not attuned to American customs," Mrs. Gowan said, on arrival here of the 98-foot craft at the end of its 35,000-mile voyage. "The first night we spent ashore as I was about to retire in a thatched tee-pee I heard the village crier announce 'the white woman is about to undress,' and the whole town turned out to see me."

"It was the highest honor they could have paid me, but I was ungrateful, for I blew out the light and jumped into bed in my clothes."

Her Adventures
Mrs. Gowan shared all the adventures, hardships and pleasures of the 18-month voyage with her husband, cement magnate of Cleve-

POLY TEACHERS SCATTER FOR VACATION

Duck hunting, institute, and Christmas dinner at home are the most popular features on the Christmas vacation for the Santa Ana high school teachers, it was learned today.

Although the local institute plans do not require the high school teachers to attend the Los Angeles meetings of the California Teachers' association in Los Angeles, many of the teachers are planning to attend some of the ses-

YOUNG READERS KEEP REPAIR SHOP BUSY

School Library Books Go to Headquarters for Reclaiming

Receiving its first shipment of reclaimed books, the Orange county free library, just one year old, made another step in its growth today. Miss Margaret Livingston, county librarian, said that 100 school library books had been reclaimed, and that in all 125 county library books had been used so often as to make rebinding necessary.

"The books are kept in circulation," Miss Livingston explained, "until they threaten to fall apart." She exhibited a few books that were about to be returned to the library headquarters for rebinding. The backs hung to the loosened leaves by a few threads and the last crackling fragments of book-binder's glue.

There were enough fingerprints on each of the pages of the decrepit volumes to keep a correspondence school detective busy.

Mark Twain Favorite
The slips, showing the number of times each of the books had been "taken out," were covered with figures impressed in violet ink by the librarian's dictatorial "date due" stamp.

Mark Twain, judging by the reclaimed books, is the writer most loved by Orange county. "Huckleberry Finn" and "Tom Sawyer," of course, top the list of his books being read, but his other works are apparently in great demand. Calls for his books, according to this method of judgment, even exceed those for popular modern novels of the Harold Bell Wright and Zane Grey type.

John Fox stands out among modern writers, considered of the worth-while type, among the readers served by the Orange county free library. His "Trail of the Lonesome Pine" has been steadily in demand during the year of the library's existence here.

Boy readers have shown a decided preference for Charles Major, if grimy fingerprints and rapid succession of "date due" stamps in copies of his works tell the story. His "Uncle Tom Andy Bill," by this means of deduction is the most popular.

17,000 Books Circulated
"These are but a few of the writers read by Orange county readers," Miss Livingston said. "They, however, stand out from the rest."

"Books circulated by the Orange county free library now number 17,000. The library has 30 distributing points throughout the county, consisting of free library branches and school libraries." The headquarters of the library occupy space at the Orange county farm bureau on North Main street. Miss Frances Stockebrand and Miss Arline Davis are Miss Livingston's assistants.

HONOR SOCIETIES TO MEET IN L. A.

Increased importance attaches to the Santa Ana high school Honor society with the announcement of complete plans for the luncheon for representatives of the honor societies of all Southern California high schools, to be held at the Los Angeles high school tomorrow at noon.

Twelve representatives of the local high school will attend, according to today's announcement. The local school's society is number 13 in the California Scholarship federation.

Two high schools in the federation have been chosen to nominate a candidate for the presidency of the state organization and Enid Ewist, president of the local society, has been nominated. She will give an address during the work of the Santa Ana society and giving her views on the opportunities open to the societies for work in the schools.

Those planning to attend the luncheon from Santa Ana are, Edie Jessup, Dorothy Perry, Frank Adams, Adams Hansen, Harris Cloyes, Jero Bauer, Aurel Bauer, Alice Richards, Constance Crookshank, Enid Twist and one of the honor society faculty committee, Miss Isabel Anderson.

MUST EAT MORE SPUDS
MADISON, Wis., Dec. 19.—Every person in the United States will have to eat forty-eight pounds more of potatoes this year if the present crop is to be consumed, the Wisconsin department of markets estimated.

GAY VERSES ON CARDS ENTICE YULE SMILES

Not Sheer Nonsense Alone Is Found—Some Have Wistfulness Touch

BY ELEANOR ELLIOTT

If you were a confirmed golfer and on Christmas morning should receive, from a friendly acquaintance, a little card depicting a genial old Santa Claus in his famous red suit, augmented by golf hose and a putter, with a verse which said

"May Christmas make a fine APPROACH,

While Santa hollers 'FORE!' And in your CUP of happiness Complete a perfect SCORE."

—Wouldn't you SMILE?

Well, that's what Christmas cards are for—to add to the smiles on the day of days. That is why verse writers turn out scores of jingles during the year and why artists vie with each other in the quaint, pretty, amusing or artistic conceptions which they place on the gay cards.

That is why Uncle Sam's mail is almost swamped with greeting cards from Uncle Ezekiah and Aunt Miranda in Portland, Maine, to Uncle Ole and Aunt Hedwig in Portland, Oregon—just to add to the Christmas morning smiles.

One clever card new this season is designed "To bring luck on Christmas day" and surely one of the facial muscles if he couldn't smile at the sky-blue bird with a quizzical twirl to his yellow bill, a horseshoe for legs and a four-leaf clover for a tail, who is said to be "good luck all over" because "His daddy was a horseshoe And his ma a four-leaf clover."

But sometimes the smiles are not caused by sheer nonsense as in the cited cases. Sometimes it is a tender wistful smile called up by the wish expressed by a loving heart:

"May the Giver of gifts give unto you

That which is good and that which is true,

The will to help and the courage to do,

A heart that can sing the whole day through

Whether the skies are gray or blue—

May the Giver of gifts give these to you."

Would Bring Courage.

Would it not inspire a fainting heart to renewed courage to read those lines on a day when every body the whole world over seemed rejoicing and absolutely unconscious of a lonely, frightened heart alone in the dark?

Suppose you were struggling under the burden of worry? Would not a parchment booklet with the deep blue of Arabian night skies serving as a background for a truly desert prayer scene and bearing the beautiful "Allah's prayer":

"I pray the prayer the Easterns do May the peace of Allah abide with you—" and the rest of its stately and sonorous lines—bring you a bit of that peace so desired?

Oh they are wonderful things, the greeting cards of today. Perhaps you wish to send to that friend in the ice-locked East a wee bit of California sunshine? What better way to do it than to select a snowy folder bearing a Christmas greeting in golden letters, and containing an exquisitely hand-tinted view of the stately pines and eucalypti of the famous drive at Tustin, one of Orange county's chief beauties; or a glimpse of the little lakelet at Orange county park, or the campanile and a bit of the garden at San Juan Capistrano mis-

Express West's Beauties.

Such things are all expressive of the beauties of the Golden West known all through the year and long to share with our friends at all seasons and particularly at the season of the Christ Child.

And surely never was invitation couched in pleasanter form than that expressed on a card with a truly California decoration—

"This brings you greetings glad and true From a sunny land so fair; We've turkeys here and puddings too, Enough and lots to spare. We bid you come and join our feast. This jolly Christmas season; Why shiver in that chilly East? Come tell me, Friend, your reason."

'They Will Never Live to See Another Christmas'

BY TOM LEWIS

Good Kris Kringle will not forget those who made, or were ready and willing to make, heroic sacrifices for their country.

Down near San Diego, in a government hospital at Camp Kearney, two hundred and fifty former service men are making a grim fight for life.

"Tubercular patients," the physicians call them and, according to Miss Louise Tubbs, president of the auxiliary of Santa Ana Post 131, American Legion, many of the men will not live to see another Christmas.

"Women of the auxiliaries," said Miss Tubbs, "have been designated to play the role of Santa Claus to these poor fellows, many of whom are desperately ill, some of whom will never live to see another Christmas."

"In order to bring a bit of cheer into these darkened lives, the Orange county posts, including Santa Ana, Anaheim, Orange, Fullerton, Brea and Huntington Beach, will unite in sending candy, fruit, personal remembrances and other gifts to the tubercular patients quartered at Camp Kearney."

"In some cases, where the men receive no compensation from the government, plans have been made to make monetary gifts. In such cases, I understand, the men can use money to better advantage than they could gifts of various kinds."

Many of the men, it was explained, are far from their homes, while others have no homes. To these the personal visits of the women will no doubt come "like the benediction that follows prayer."

That there are at least two

"Chinese trade dollars" in Santa Ana, was disclosed today when Dr. H. E. W. Barnes displayed one of that issue, following announcement that C. E. Callahan, cafe man here, was believed to be the only person in Santa Ana possessing such a piece.

Newspapers throughout Southern California have been carrying stories concerning the silver trade dollar, with the result that there have been found many persons who possess silver money coined by this government for trade in China.

Uncle Sam's stamp of "420 grains, 900 fine," appears on the face of the coin in possession of Dr. Barnes. The date is 1877. Dr. Barnes says he has had the piece of money for forty years.

Ten thousand of these dollars were coined and were soon afterward withdrawn from circulation. For this reason they are regarded highly by collectors of old coins.

Barnes does not remember the exact circumstances under which he came into possession of the coin.

In a small collection of old coins he has a $20 gold piece minted in

BAKERSFIELD WARNED BY CHIEF OF POLICE

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 19.—The list of minor crimes in Bakersfield is growing rapidly, according to a statement made today by Chief of Police C. H. Stone. The police official also issued a warning to residents to exert more care in the protection and safeguarding of their property.

"This is the season of the year," declared the chief, "when the valleys of California are flooded with large numbers of unemployed. Not all of these men are thieves and crooks, but in their ranks are to be found many who will not hesitate to commit crime when the opportunity is offered. Each day we are rounding up large numbers of them and providing them with a night's lodging and breakfast at the county jail."

"We take this means of passing them through the jail so that we may pick out any known criminals among them and to furnish them with a bed and meal, as we know that there are many of them who would only resort to theft in the event that they were hungry."

Residents should be careful at this time of year to keep their premises clear of valuables that might comprise the loot of some burglar, and shoppers should not load the family car up with parcels then go on another round of the stores, leaving no one in the machine."

COURT SETTLES QUESTION ON HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT VOTING

Supreme Tribunal Removes All Doubt as to Election of Boards

RULING IS RECEIVED

Marin County Case Basis for Decision On Vital Matter Here

Voters in the school districts, annexed some time ago to the Santa Ana high school district, are entitled to vote for a board of trustees which shall at the same time be a board of education for the city elementary schools, according to a supreme court decision received here today.

By this decision, the high school district, created a year ago last summer in accordance with what is known as the Eden bill, including Newport Beach, Greenville, Diamond, Paulirino, Harper-Fairview and Delhi, is declared regular, and will be governed by the city board of education.

More explicitly, it indicated that in the April elections, when a board of trustees will be chosen for the high school district, and a board of education for the city schools, voters in the outlying school districts which are a part of the high school district will cast ballots for the high school trustees, and, of course, automatically for the city board of education.

On Marin County Case.
The case which was decided by the supreme court was the board of education of San Rafael against J. B. Davidson, superintendent of schools in Marin county. The board sought to secure a mandate to compel the superintendent to call an election to choose a new high school board, but the supreme court ruled for the defendant, and decided that the city high school board should act in that capacity.

Under this decision, "it is contemplated that outlying and adja-

PRICES JUMP UNDER EXPORTER'S DEMAND

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Heavy export trading, especially in wheat, caused a reaction from an early dip on the Chicago board of trade today and all grains except oats closed near yesterday's figure.

Oats showed a weak tone due to slackening in the cash demand. Provisions closed lower.

December wheat opened off 1-8 at 127 1/4 and closed up 1-4; May opened off 1-8 at 125 and closed up 1-8; July opened off 5-8 at 115 5/8 and closed unchanged.

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

List Strengthens as Morgan Denies Rumors of German Loan

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Considering that the market had absorbed some 200,000 shares of forced liquidation in the previous session the general stock list gave a good account of itself today. A resume of the holdings thrown overboard after the Kansas City failure showed that house was carrying substantial lines of representative rails and industrial in addition to the huge blocks of Texas company, Sinclair and other low priced oils.

In view of the fact that a service tax placed upon the market's power by assimilation by such heavy selling was followed by two unfavorable news developments, prices held remarkably well in the early dealings.

After the offerings resulting from Morgan's statement that there was no immediate prospect of a German loan and Gary's denial that the United States Steel corporation was considering extra dividends had been taken, the whole list strengthened.

The market closed higher.

Closing prices:

U. S. Steel 106 1/2, up 1-8; Bethlehem 63 3/4, up 3-8; Baldwin 130 3/4, up 1-4; American Locomotive 125, up 1-4; Pan American 90 1/8, up 1-4; Texas company 47 1/8, up 1-4; Consolidated Gas 118 1/4, up 1-4; Corn Products 130 5/8, up 1-4; Retail Stores 71, up 1-4; American Smelting 7 3/8, up 1-4; Reading 78 3/4, up 1-4; Southern Pacific 87, up 1-2.

FIND MISSING MAIL AVIATOR SNOWBOUND

(United Press Leased Wire)
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Dec. 19.—Henry G. Boonstra, the aviator who was lost with his mail plane since Friday, and for whom twenty airplanes were searching the mountains, has been found at the Rigby ranch, four and a half miles from Porcupine Ridge, northeast of Coalville and thirty-eight miles north of Salt Lake. Pilot Lester F. Bishop reported today.

The aviators report that the plane is not badly damaged and can be easily repaired.

Boonstra was caught in a furious blizzard and found he was making little progress. His plane was gradually forced to earth, but he did not realize how close he was to the mountain side.

His landing jarred him badly, but in the midst of the blizzard he was able to crawl from the machine and make his way to the ranch house, some distance away in the valley. There he was snow-bound and there was no way in which he could notify Woodward Field here in Salt Lake.

COURT SETTLES HIGH SCHOOL QUESTION

cent elementary school districts may be annexed to a city high school district for high school purposes, and the district so consolidated is to be under the government and control of the city board of education and the annexed territory becomes a part of the city for the purpose of electing such board.

"This decision definitely settles a question in which the Santa Ana high school district has been greatly interested," said Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wetlin.

Matter Now Settled.
"There have been other decisions that touched on the matter, but this decision faces the question squarely. Next April Santa Ana city will hold an election. At that time it will elect a city board of education, which under the state law will control not only the city elementary schools but also the city high school. Delhi, Pauline, Diamond, Harper-Fairview and Newport Beach will vote on the selection of the board of education, but not on any other Santa Ana city officers.

"Have not gone into the matter thoroughly yet, but my tentative opinion is that the members of the board of education would have to be residents of Santa Ana."

Mrs. Mayme Bailey, formerly of The Mode Millinery and for a short time with Mrs. Marie Louise, is again associated with The Mode Millinery, where she will be pleased to meet all her old friends and patrons.

Lost Four Times.
The Speejaaks was four times reported lost.

Following the tour of the South Seas with land excursions on the Caroline, Marshall, Society, Fiji and Solomon groups, the great cities of Australia were visited and pilgrimages made to the magic cities of ancient Java.

Singapore and its colorful markets, its Chinese and its dazzling jewels came next with a trip across the Indian ocean to Colombo and ports of India.

Then a scorching voyage through the Red Sea, touching at Aden, Arabia, and through the Suez to Egypt.

At Athens the party landed the day King Constantine quit, then proceeded to Naples for a motor tour of Italy. France was skirted, Gibraltar visited and then the "Speejaaks" passed the Pillars of Hercules for the homeward trip.

Christmas Party

Little people of the beginners' primary and cradle roll departments of the First Methodist Sunday school will have a happy afternoon Thursday at the church parlor, for they will be honored guests at a Christmas party. Plans are being made for jolly games, pretty decorations and a Christmas treat of goodies.

YULE SHOPPERS GIVEN "GOOD HUMOR" TIPS

want a clerk to follow him around the store, or would he prefer to explore by himself, find the desired article, then call the clerk to attend to his wants?

"Please, Mr. and Mrs. Customer, don't come into the store and say, 'Really, I don't know what I want; or I want something for a boy, or a girl, or the boss's wife, or some such friend of or member of the family.'"

Urges Folk Be Specific.
"If you say 'I want a practical present to cost so much, or I want a novelty present at such and such a cost,' perhaps then we can help."

"Clerks should not show antagonism toward a customer who believes the price of an article to be too high. Clerks should not 'visit' among themselves, or lose their temper because a customer seems to take over-long in reaching a decision in a purchase."

"Customers, however, should remember that clerks work long hours during these last few days. Continuous discussion explanations and 'go forth, leave the clerk virtually voiceless before the store closes. It is difficult to be tired, hoarse from talking and retain one's company manners."

"Mutual helpfulness is the spirit of the season and if customer and clerk bear this in mind, this will be a merry Christmas."

CANADIAN WHEAT WINS REGINA, Sas.—Saskatchewan has again won the championship for hard spring wheat at the International Livestock show at Chicago. First place was secured by R. O. Wyler of Luseland. Last year the championship was won by a farmer in Montana, but this year Canadian growers came back strong, winning 19 out of the 25 awards. A dispatch from Chicago states that John W. Lucas, of Cayley, Alta., won first place in live exhibits at the International Livestock show for some years, having won the oats championship last year. Honors for having the best fat Leicester wether in the sheep department at the International Livestock show at Chicago were awarded to A. and W. Whitelaw, of Guelph, Ont.

sions, particularly the department sessions, this week.

Principal D. K. Hammond will preside at the junior college session, which will be held Thursday afternoon. Hammond is president of the Southern California Junior College association. Aside from attendance at institute Mr. and Mrs. Hammond have not made any special plans for the vacation.

Coach Marvin Morrison, Vice-principal William F. Clayton, Coach Raymond Addison, Herbert Alleman and W. F. Orites are planning a hunting trip in the Imperial valley and although they are not making any promises they hope to supplement the Christmas turkey with duck.

The Morrisons will spend Christmas day with Mrs. Morrison's parents at Beverly Hills and Clayton is planning to spend part of the vacation visiting at Pasadena. Alleman says he is going to work when he isn't hunting.

To Visit Parents
A number of the teachers are planning to spend the vacation with their parents. Mrs. Robert Northcross will visit with her mother at Hollywood, Miss Mary Swass will be at her home near Stockton, Miss Margaret Baker will be at Monrovia, Miss Bertha Stein at Pasadena, Miss Pearl E. Twomey at San Jacinto, Miss Alicia McNulty at Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Jackson in Los Angeles, Robert Bates at Pomona, and Charles Tibbets at San Diego.

L. L. Beeman, head of the history department, is planning to attend the sessions of the California Teachers' association and later will visit at San Bernardino. Miss Lella Watson and Miss Anna Trythall will attend the meeting of the National Association of Spanish Teachers in Los Angeles this week and later in the vacation Miss Watson will entertain guests who have come from the East for the Spanish teachers' convention. Miss Trythall is planning to make a trip to Camp Baldy.

Miss Margaret Wickes and Minna Mae Lewis will spend the vacation in Los Angeles visiting friends.

To Work on Ranch
When he isn't attending institute Elmer T. Worthy says he will be farming on his ranch near Huntington Beach.

Laguna Beach will be the vacation home of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Kelly.

Miss Beta Daniel will spend the vacation with her parents at Fullerton. Not exactly a pleasant vacation plan but an unavoidable one is that of Miss Jennie Lasby, who will have an operation for the removal of tonsils at the Community hospital. Miss Levinia Scott is recovering from a serious illness at her home at 706 West Sixth street.

Miss Ruth Rowland plans to entertain a guest from San Francisco during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Neally will be at Beaumont during most of the vacation. They have become much attached to the country there. Improving each shining moment of his holiday, Charles C. Briscoe will work on his new residence at 621 East Myrtle street and announces that any of his friends who want to get exercise are welcome to join the hammer welder's brigade.

Spend Vacation Here
Teachers who are planning to spend the vacation in Santa Ana are Mrs. Edith Thatcher, Miss Mary Harris, J. Russell Bruff, Miss Mabel Whiting, Miss Nellie Wilson, Miss M. Berdina Henry, Miss Marguerite Tedford, Leon McMullen, F. L. Abbott, Miss Floy Donaldson, Edward Hummel, Miss Eva Johnston, Miss Joella Gowdy, Miss Ruth Frothingham, Mrs. Pearl Morse, Miss Isabel Anderson, Miss Etta Conkle, Miss Frances Lapum, S.

J. Mastel, Miss Jesse and Miss Sue Holland.

Nearly every one of the foregoing are planning trips to Los Angeles, attendance at some of the institute sessions and the entertainment of friends and guests during the holidays.

A. B. Gardner is planning an automobile trip to the northern part of the state if weather permits. H. W. Goodwin will be at home on his ranch at Brea.

Miss Lulu Finley and Miss Ruth Dripps will be in Santa Ana most of the vacation and are planning to enjoy Christmas at home.

Give Something for the Home—from Chandlers

Gifts for the Home Give the Entire Family
Years of Joy

Pictures—$2.00 to $18.00

Chandlers' collection of pictures will offer you suggestions to solve many a gift problem. We have a wide range of subjects including many popular Western pictures. All are in artistic harmonizing frames.

Mirrors—$3.50 to $47.50

Do not decide upon that gift for the adornment of the home of a friend or relative until you have seen Chandlers' stock of polychrome and mahogany framed mirrors. We have them in designs and sizes to appeal to the eyes as well as to the purse.

Art Vases—$5.00 to $30.00

Chandlers' are now showing a well selected line of beautiful Cloisonne art vases in various sizes. They make splendid gifts.

Table Runners—$2.50 to $7.50

Artistic ready-made runners in silk, tapestry and velour. No matter what your ideas may be about table runners we can fill your requirements. If what we have in stock does not exactly suit you we will make them up to your special order.

Windsor Chairs—$14.00 to $30.00
A gift that will fit into any home and any room. Is not out of place in the most humble cottage or the most luxurious mansion.

Spinnet Desks—$25.00 to $95.00

A popular gift for the home. Utility combined with beauty of design. In various finishes.

Electric Lamps—$4.50 to $97.50

Great variety of design and coloring is the keynote of Chandlers' lamp exhibition. Whether you are interested in table lamps, boudoir lamp or floor lamps you are sure to be pleased here. We have standards of metal and wood in the various finishes, and shades of art glass, parchment and silk.

Chandlers' Home Gifts Express the True Christmas Spirit

—Can a Christmas gift so ideal be selected as one that brings to the family circle daily happiness and comfort for years to come?

—Such a gift answers perfectly the true purpose of all gift-giving—to serve as a constant reminder of the thoughtfulness and affection of the one who gives.

—The wonderful selection of home gifts now on display at Chandlers' has been collected from far and near. Months ago a representative of this firm visited America's leading markets, personally selecting for residents of Orange County home furnishings possessing the ideal requisites of gift things—individuality, beauty, usefulness, comfort and lasting quality.

—Chandlers' distinctive gift pieces carry to the home they are to adorn something far greater than their intrinsic worth—their artistic merit and characteristic quality will be enjoyed and appreciated by the entire family long after other gifts are forgotten.

—The ideal home gift need not be expensive, for the Christmas spirit may be conveyed regardless of price. Among the great variety of suitable gift things at Chandlers' you will be sure to find something appropriate within the limits of your purse.

—Whether you seek merely our idea for a gift or wish to make a purchase, you will find Chandlers' a delightful shopping place these four remaining days before Christmas. Comparison of values is urged now, as at all times.

Six Is Half-dozen

"Six of one and half a dozen of the other" may not be a common expression among Brazilians, but they accept it in principle when telephoning, if the required number contains a six. In Portuguese, the mother tongue of the native of Brazil, "six" is "seis" and "seven" is "sete." And unless enunciated with extreme care, the two numerals frequently cause telephone errors, much as "five" and "nine" sometimes do for English-speaking telephone users.
The Brazilian telephone user, therefore, seldom or never calls for "seis" but instead uses "meia duzia" which means "half a dozen." He would ask for 1267 as "um dois meia duzia sete." Just what he does when the number happens to be 6666 does not appear.

Phone Figures

In South America, the best developed country from a telephone standpoint is Uruguay, which can boast of 1.5 telephones per 100 population, whereas Argentina shows only 1.3. Japan leads the Asiatic states in telephone development, but with all its progressiveness, Japan still has only 0.6 telephones per 100 inhabitants. Africa is as barren telephonically as Asia. In Oceania, Australia (4.3) and New Zealand (7.0) rank high as against those comparable European countries in which telephone service has been controlled by governmental agencies, but their development is low when compared with the United States, where on January 1, 1921, there were 12.4 telephones per 100 population.

MAN, 68, MINUS CASH SEEKING RICH WIFE

Somewhere in Orange county there is a woman who has money, and who is lonesome for some man who has none.

This is the woman that James Lahey, 68, 1188 South Concord street, Los Angeles, desires to meet.

Lahey, who is frequently corresponding with County Clerk J. M. Backs's marriage bureau, said so himself in a letter received here today.

Several months ago, in the grist of letters that come from lonesome men and women of all ages, came a plea from Lahey.

"I am lonesome," the man wrote. "My wife has been dead since 1912. I desire to marry again."

Receives Woman's Letter
About a week ago, Backs's batch of marriage requests contained a letter from a lonesome woman desiring a mate. Backs remembered Lahey, and forwarded the letter to him.

Today came the reply. Expressing his gratitude for the county clerk's thoughtfulness, Lahey made clear his position on the matter.

"I am poor, and 68 years old," the letter said. "If the woman is poor, it would not be the thing to do to marry her. But if she has means, then it would be all right."

Would Help Her Save
"I am not looking for a woman of money to take it away from her. I would help her to save it. There must be many with means around Santa Ana who will not object to me because of my circumstances. I would like to meet her, or them."

"I have tried to be all that any good, true man should be," the letter concluded. "I am a member of the Methodist Episcopal church."

Back in Los Angeles, no doubt, this yearning heart was reaching out for the Santa Ana woman of means, whose disposition would ignore the handicap which Lahey frankly admits afflicts him.

MASS MEETING AT BEACH TO SEEK UNITY

Residents of Newport Beach today were discussing the possible results of a mass meeting to be held in that city the evening of December 28 for discussion of the harbor project and other features that it is hoped will develop harmony on the part of all factions in promoting and advancing the city.

The mass meeting has been called by the city council there and the harbor commission has been invited to be present and report status of harbor work at this time and plans for the immediate future.

United action by the various sections of the city in efforts to secure a federal appropriation and united action in other matters pertaining to the future of the city are considered by some as essential to successful accomplishments that will place the entire sandpit in an advanced position among the progressive resorts of the Southland.

But I've Got to Sell This Stock
—because I am Forced Out Then

LOCAL JEWELER FORCED TO MOVE MARCH 1ST

According to J. K. James, Jeweler, 317 West Fourth Street, he has been unable to renew the lease on his store building. In an interview today James went on to say:

"I have been unable to learn definitely concerning the term of my lease until now, and the knowledge that I must vacate puts me in an awkward position in that I have not been able to announce a special 'clean up' sale until the present time."

"From now until Christmas, however, I am going to make prices that will make everybody sit up and notice. And it is generally known that my prices always have been lower than most jewelers. This sale gives even greater values than ever before attempted, even by me. In good English it's a 'Close Out'—in slang, it's a 'Knock Out.'"

THREATEN GAG RULE IN SUBSIDY BATTLE

(United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Administration forces in the senate today threatened to invoke gag rule to end the debate on the Norris motion displacing the ship subsidy bill in favor of farm credit legislation.

Senator Jones, Washington, in charge of the subsidy, tried in vain to get the senate to fix a time to vote on Norris' motion.

"I can at any time move to table the Norris motion," Jones then warned. "While I do not wish to invoke this measure, I shall be forced to do so within a very short time unless an agreement is reached to end this debate and vote."

A motion to table the Norris pro-

RICHARDSON TO ASK $79,000,000 BUDGET

(United Press Leased Wire)
SACRAMENTO, Calif., Dec. 19.—A budget not exceeding $79,000,000 and possibly less, will be presented by him to the coming session of the legislature, according to announcement by Governor-Elect Friend W. Richardson.

This is a reduction of $2,000,000 in the budget submitted two years ago by Governor William D. Stephens. Stephens later signed appropriations which raised his total for the biennium to $89,000,000.

According to estimates submitted by state officials, the revenue of the state during the next two years will not exceed $82,000,000.

According to law, the governor's budget must be adopted first. If the amount of this remains at $79,000,000, only $3,000,000, is left for special appropriations.

DECIDE RED CROSS RELIEF FUND USE

At a meeting of the board of directors of Santa Ana chapter, American Red Cross, this morning, a decision was reached to use the funds of the chapter for relief and welfare work among ex-service men and their families within the jurisdiction of the chapter, in co-operation with the American Legion. This decision will not preclude the use of Red Cross funds for other than ex-service men and their families should emergency arise.

It was pointed out at the meeting that transient ex-service men are to be referred to the legion welfare committee for the reason that the legion has better facilities for judging of the credentials of transients than the Red Cross has.

Officers for Santa Ana chapter for the coming year were elected today, the old officers being re-elected, as follows: Chairman, T. E. Stephenson; vice-chairman, Mrs. A. J. Crookshank; secretary, Mrs. J. N. Leebrock; treasurer, Harry L. Hanson.

DELHI BOXERS END TRAINING PERIODS

Iman In Best Condition of Career for His Tilt With L. A. Boy

DELHI CARD
Main Event—Jack Iman, Santa Ana vs. Tom Kelly, Los Angeles, 158 pounds.
Semi-windup—Henry Gatten, Santa Ana vs. Jack Martin, Los Angeles, 155 pounds.
Preliminary—Tommy Aquilera vs. Joe Garcia, 124 pounds.
Battling Doty vs. Al Fredericks, 138 pounds.
Young Reels vs. Young McQuirke, 127 pounds.
Kid McCarter vs. Bennie Diaz, 110 pounds.

Jack Iman and Tom Kelly, the middleweights who clash in the main event at Delhi tomorrow night, were putting the finishing touches on their training periods today. Word from the camps of the men was to the effect that both are in gliding condition and confident of victory.

Iman never worked harder or a fistic fray during his career. He has been going through his traces at the Delhi arena with a lot of road work between. Kelly has been working out with some of the big fellows in Tommy McFarland's gymnasium at Los Angeles. Both tapered off with their strenuous drill today to eliminate all chance of going stale.

Local fans believed that Iman has a good chance to beat the Los Angeles boy if he stays in close and watches Kelly's best punch, his straight right to the button.

The main tilt has little on the semi-windup as far as general interest here is concerned. Hank Gatten and Jack Martin both pack a real k. o. wallop and it wouldn't surprise a lot of the bugs if their fracas didn't go the full four rounds. Gatten probably hits harder but Martin can absorb as much punishment and still fight back as well as any man that ever stepped in the Delhi arena.

Huntington Beach bugs are on edge over the Aquilera-Garcia mill. Aquilera is a beach boy and he has displayed plenty of class there in his workouts. Garcia has offered local bugs many a good bout.

The other fights bring into action Battling Doty, Delhi's latest sensation, against Al Fredericks, Young Reels of El Modena and Young McQuirke and Kid McCarter, local leather pusher, and Bennie Diaz, a newcomer.

HIGH SCHOOL TRACK TEAM TO VISIT EAST

STOCKTON, Dec. 19.—Home S. Toms, northern sectional secretary of the California interscholastic federation, announced the state prep federation had voted to send an all-star high school team to the national interscholastic championships at Chicago next spring.

The 1923 state prep track meet will be held at Los Angeles. The proceeds of the meet will be turned over to the California interscholastic federation which will finance the eastern trip. The personnel of the team will be made up of athletes who have won first places at Los Angeles. Stanislaus county was severed from the central section of the California interscholastic federation and attached to the Superior California section.

Weight teams were prohibited from playing games outside of their own section under penalty of one year suspension. This eliminates state championships for all but unlimited squads.

Billy Evans Says:

Is the champion fighter a more formidable opponent than a champion wrestler?

Jack Dempsey is the heavyweight champion of the ring; "Strangler" Lewis holds the heavyweight wrestling honors.

What chance would Dempsey have against Lewis in a mixed match? Would the sleep-producing wallop packed by Dempsey prove more effective than the bone-breaking holds of Lewis?

This question has been revived by the recent wire report that Dempsey was not averse to meeting Lewis in a mixed match.

A year ago, when Stanislaus Zbyszko was the champion, I raised the argument as to the superiority of the wrestler and boxer if two champions of the same class met in a mixed bout.

I put the question to Dempsey and Jack's answer was most emphatic.

"I'll knock out Zbyszko and a half dozen other champion wrestlers in the same ring on the same night."

"All that would be necessary for me to trim Zbyszko would be to sink a couple of punches in that bay window of his, cross a couple of right-handers to the jaw, and it would be all over."

"In a match with Dempsey I would immediately force him to the floor," said Zbyszko. "That would enable me to get my deadly holds working and thereby render Dempsey's best punches far less effective."

"Dempsey is a great fighter but he knows nothing of wrestling. It is an easy matter to force an inexperienced wrestler to the floor. Once I got Dempsey on the mat the contest would soon be over."

TIP ON SIZING UP BEGGARS GIVEN HERE

"Do you judge a beggar by his clothes or his story?"

P. S. Lucas, secretary of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association here, today asked the question of the Christmas shoppers of Santa Ana.

He said: "At this holiday season, the beggar persistently plies his trade well knowing the force of his appeal, because of the prevailing spirit of cheerful giving. He appears, disheveled and ragged, on the streets and in places where the public congregates, and offers you his pencils or other wares and pitifully implores you to buy."

"Detectives of the 'Mendicant Squad' in New York recently found such a beggar and brought him into court. Investigation proved that he was carrying upon his person $246.90 in cash and a bank book showing deposits amounting to $1,994.65. Starvation so miserably depleted upon his face while begging did not appear to the court as an imminent danger and a 30 days' jail sentence made a remarkable impression upon him."

"Instances of this kind are far more frequent than the casual reader is inclined to believe. There are both men and women soliciting aid upon the streets today, especially in the larger cities, who can be rehabilitated and become self-respecting. Some WILL not and they should not be allowed to prey upon a sympathetic and well-intentioned public."

"There are many needy and deserving cases in our own city that are being taken care of by numerous agencies who should be given an opportunity to handle your kindly gifts. A little thought on the part of our kind citizens, will not only eliminate the faker but also prevent duplication of earnest and well meant effort."

WEST VIRGINIA OFF FOR FRAY IN EAST

Undeclared Eleven Travels In Special Car; Men to Practice En Route

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Dec. 19.—No less than twenty traveling passenger agents, division passenger agents, general passenger agents, and what-nots, representing no less than a dozen eastern as well as western railroad systems, have collaborated on the itinerary for the West Virginia university football team which on Christmas day is to meet Gonzaga university at San Diego, California, in one of the three holiday East-West games.

The team was to leave here this afternoon, going via Pittsburgh to arrive in Chicago the following morning. From there an immediate connection will be made for San Diego, going via Kansas City, Northern New Mexico and Northern Arizona, and Los Angeles, arriving at Los Angeles the morning of Saturday, December 23.

On the going trip the railroads have provided a schedule showing all water stations and other stops where five minutes or more is allowed, so that if Trainer Cartmell and Coach Spears desire, a light workout can be had.

On arrival at San Diego it is planned to have a real workout of an hour or more on Saturday on the scene of Monday's game. Saturday night the team will attend a theater, but on Sunday a quiet excursion into Old Mexico is planned that will take the squad away from the crowd and keep them the entire day.

The team will lose no time in leaving San Diego after the game. The hour for leaving is 2 a. m. of the night following the game, a connection which puts the men in Los Angeles for a tour of Hollywood and other points of interest on the day following Christmas.

That night the squad will go to San Francisco and spend all of the day of December 27, the night and the following day till 11 a. m. viewing the wonders of the "Golden Gate." The night of the 27th the team will attend the Columbia theater in San Francisco.

Leaving San Francisco the morning of December 28th, the team will come back via Sacramento, Reno, Ogden and Salt Lake City.

At the latter point a short layover will be provided for sight-seeing, and then the trip through the Royal Gorge to Colorado Springs, where a three-hour layover is also planned December 30. From Colorado Springs the team will come direct to Chicago via Omaha, Des Moines, etc., and will spend the day in Chicago, arriving home on January 2 at noon.

On the round trip, the squad will occupy its own private car, the same car making the round trip from Morgantown and in making arrangements for the details, the squad has even been permitted to select its own porter, the vote having been unanimously in favor of a colored gentleman who served the team when the trip to Bloomington, Indiana, was made to play the University of Indiana.

PENN STATE ELEVEN OFF FOR CALIFORNIA
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Dec. 19.—Penn State's football squad en-trained today for the trip to Pasadena where they are to engage the University of Southern California on New Year's Day. With the mercury around zero and several inches of snow on the ground, the team had its final workout.

FIGHT RESULTS

JERSEY CITY, Dec. 19.—Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion, outpointed Phil Krus, Harrison middleweight, by a narrow margin in a 12-round bout.

CANTON, O., Dec. 19.—Jeff Smith, Bayonne, N. J., light heavyweight knocked out Clay Turner St. Paul, in the second round.

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 19.—Fred Fulton, Minnesota heavyweight, knocked out Carl Morris in the fourth round.

MERIDEN, Conn., Dec. 19.—Babe Herman, California featherweight, won a 12-round decision from Kid Kaplan, Meriden.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 19.—Teddy Myers, Buffalo lightweight, defeated Harry Cook of Iowa, in ten rounds last night.

TOT'S PLEA BREAKS NERVE OF SUSPECT

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Arthur Foster, accused of murdering Mrs. Kate Mitchell Trostell, his sweetheart of school days, withstood a rigid police grilling of seventy-two hours, but collapsed when his victim's 13-year-old daughter was led, tearful and brokenhearted into his presence.

"I want my mother," she sobbed. "It's Christmas time and I am embroidering a pillow for her. You know where she is. Oh, please give my Mom back to me."

For forty minutes she pleaded with him, alternating her pleas with stern accusations and finally Foster waved her away and summoned the police.

"She's dead all right," he said. "Take me out to the canal and I'll show you where to find her body."

He was hustled into a police car and taken to the old turning basin in the river.

"You'll find her body down there," he said, pointing to a spot where the murky waters were eddying about.

Then the "granite-man," as the police designate him, was taken back to jail and the grim work of drawing grappling hooks through the turning basin began. No results had been obtained up to a late hour tonight, and the police believe the body may have slipped out of the eddy and been washed down the canal.

SEVERE COLD FATAL TO STATE SENATOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—State Senator Elmer Scott Rigdon of San Luis Obispo died in Lane hospital here last night after collapsing in a local hotel. He had contracted a severe cold several weeks ago which left him practically deaf, and had come here a few days ago to consult a specialist. His condition was not regarded as serious.

Senator Rigdon was an ardent advocate of good roads, and was author of a bill which provided for construction, with state and federal aid, of the Carmel-San Simeon Scenic highway. He was born in Cambria sixty-four years ago and was elected to the senate in 1916, after having served two years in the assembly.

Senator Rigdon leaves a widow, one son, three brothers, Dr. Rufus Rigdon and Howard Rigdon of San Francisco, and John Rigdon of Monterey county, and a sister, Mrs. John Flagg of San Francisco.

HELP FOR ASTORIA
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19.—The board of supervisors yesterday voted unanimously to appropriate $25,000 out of the urgent-necessity fund for the relief of Astoria fire victims, bringing the total subscriptions collected here to $40,000.

WILL NOT PURCHASE HIGH PRICED STARS

NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Days of the $75,000 and the $100,000 ball player have gone, with lots of other things of the good old days in the opinion of John J. McGraw, one of the champion spenders in the game.

The leader of the Giants, who handed out approximately $150,000 in the last year for two players, Jimmy O'Connell and Jack Bentley, does not believe that the crop of good players has been exhausted, but he makes the point that he will not spend any more large sums for players, and when he stops spending, the spending stops.

Along with some other men in the business, McGraw says that the new agreement reached by the major leagues to foil the minors who are bucking the draft will result in the stopping of all high sales.

Under the new plan of beating the draft, the majors have agreed not to send any players to the minors unless it is agreed they are subject to the draft.

It is the insistence of the New York Yankees to make the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league to plan that is holding up the sale of Jackis May, the star little southpaw of the coast.

RAY BEGINS TO WORK FOR 1924 OLYMPICS

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Jole Ray, Chicago running flash, suspended from amateur track competition until January 1, is planning to come back. Ray is getting himself into condition and plans to point for either the mile or the half mile in the 1924 Olympic games at Paris.

CHICAGO TO WELCOME EASTERN GRID TEAMS

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Supporters of Penn State, West Virginia and Pittsburgh football teams planned a welcome here when the teams pass through on their way to the coast for the annual inter-coast games. Penn and West Virginia arrive tomorrow and Pitt will get in Friday.

AUTOMOBILE WRECK NEAR BOLSA MONDAY

BOLSA, Dec. 19.—A young man, said to live in Huntington Beach, skidded as he was traveling at a fair rate of speed near here about 4 o'clock Monday evening. His car turned over but he was not hurt. The machine, a light model, was wrecked.

BRILLIANT SINGING OF FAMOUS GRAVEURE WINS GREAT OVATION

By ELEANOR ELLIOTT

Today Santa Anans understood just why it was possible for Louis Graveure to win success from apparent defeat, when he succeeded, by a life in the open, in restoring a voice that had apparently gone forever.

One glance at his iron jaw and his do-or-die profile and the secret was out. And through that indomitable will and high courage, a God-given voice was saved for an appreciative world.

And today we of Santa Ana were telling each other what a remarkable experience was given us to know last night—the experience of hearing a voice with the strong, clear note of the trumpet, the wall of the violin and the piercing sweetness of the flute.

Huge Audience Present
It was to one of the largest local audiences ever greeting a singer, that Louis Graveure last night at the high school auditorium made his first appeal in his first song, "Ombra mai fu" the Largo from Xerxes by Handel. All the rich velvet of his notes was emphasized in the song which proved an excellent choice for the opening number.

In direct antithesis was the second number of the first group, "Father Was a Thrifty Man," a Hungarian folk song, sung with rare whimsicality.

Followed in close succession the haunting "sweetness of Massenet's 'Elegie' and the 'Toreador Song' from 'Carmen,' the latter sung with a dash and fire that brought an overwhelming wave of enthusiasm from the audience; a wave that beat against the resistance of the singer until he returned to sing by request "Songs My Mother Taught Me." Never was anything sung in so appealingly tender a manner, and through the minds of the audience sifted poignant strains of "Bonnie Doon," "Blue Bells of Scotland," "Jack O' Hazel-dean" and scores of other fleeting memories of songs once sung by loved voices long since stilled.

The silence which attended each song was almost as great a tribute to the singer as the applause which followed—and seldom have Santa Ana audiences been so generous with their applause. Each song was thus greeted, while at the end of each group, Mr. Graveure was forced to respond again and again.

An unusually diversified program which would have proved too difficult for more ordinary singers, seemed mere child's play to him, and the very tonal qualities of his voice changed as did his facial expression to meet the soul-stirring sweetness of the Welsh folk song, "All Through the Night," the impudent Celtic charm of "The Leprechaun," the haunting charm of "Mary" with its tender refrain.

"Kind, kind and gentle is she; Kind is my Mary"
and the gay conviviality of Bobbie

Burns' "Drinking Song" with its musical setting by Richard Hammond.

Sings Bird Talk Song
This group was followed by an encore announced by the singer as being a song from the hills and the mountains and which he called "The Birds' Talking Song," a gay little affair, chattering of the crow, the bat, the mourning dove and the bluejay and their philosophies.

Adding immeasurably to the pleasure of the recital was Arkad Sander at the piano, and varying the vocal numbers on the program the talented young pianist gave the turbulent, storm-tossed "Legend of St. Francis" by Liszt.

The audience was highly appreciative of his ability and he was compelled to give a second spirited number.

The third vocal group illustrated foreign themes in the dreamy Frank "Nocturne," the airy lightness of "J'ai dit aux étoiles" by Paladilhe and the remarkably brilliant "Prologue from Leoncavallo's Pagliacci."

Gives Tosti's "Goodbye"
The final group gave "Tosti's 'Goodbye,' with its poignant melancholy; the quaintly imaginative "My Menagerie" by Foster; a delicate love ballad in "Myra" by Clutsum and the ringing sea call, "Shipmates o' Mine" by Sander-son.

But added to this announced group were two remarkable encores. The first was "Sylvia" by Olej Speaks, and sung in such a delightful manner, with such rare appreciations of the delicate shadings of this most beautiful love song, that the singer was given a remarkable ovation. Again and again did he return to bow his appreciation, and it was only when he returned with his accompanist that the applause was stilled. Then he granted his hearers' desire—he repeated "Sylvia" and the repetition was more beautiful, if possible, than the first singing.

His final encore—for the audience remained seated at the close of the program until he responded with song—was the favorite, "Tommy Lad," interpreted with the same unerring skill that led one to wonder if it were physically possible for that rich, golden voice to err ever so slightly on a note.

Announcements Made
Interest in matters musical so far as Santa Ana is concerned was further evidenced last night by the flattering assurance given Clarence A. Gustlin, president of the Santa Ana Musical association, that the community would stand back of the association in its decision to bring the Irish Regimental band of Toronto, Canada, to this city for a concert Thursday evening, January 11.

The Irish Regimental band is to Canada what Sousa's band is to the United States, and its appearance in this city was made possible by L. A. Behrmer of Los Angeles, who arranged that the engagement should be on a 60-40 basis, that the musical association might raise funds toward financing the state convention here in April. In such an arrangement the question of guarantee plays a smaller part than in ordinary arrangements and the plan is of great benefit to the organization.

The concert date, the only one to be procured, will follow the third number on the association concert course, Charles Wakefield Cadman and Princess Tsianina, who will appear January 10 at the high school auditorium.

CHRISTMAS TREE AT COSTA MESA FRIDAY

COSTA MESA, Dec. 19. — A Christmas program and Christmas tree will be given by the Sunday school at the church Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Treats will be given to all children present. The program will consist of music and readings. An offering will be taken for the benefit of orphan children.

Raymond K. Eastman of Santa Ana has secured a lease on the north half of the new brick building owned by Harry Ridley and will put in a stock of dry goods and men's work clothes. The store will be opened in about two weeks.

H. E. Border of Los Angeles, brother of Mrs. F. P. Morgan, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Pollock and daughter, Wilda, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Morgan and daughter, Virginia, of Hollywood, brother and sister of Rev. F. P. Morgan, drove down Sunday to attend church and take dinner at the parsonage.

Bryant Stearns spent a few hours Sunday at the home of Miss Mary Stearns. Mrs. Guy Derby of Santa Ana, spent Tuesday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. King.

Then the tabasco is spilled into the composition—yes, we're only in the first half of the first reel. You'll straighten the kinks out of your spine so as to be able to sit up and see above the heads in front of you.

Boy, how she does buzz from there on!
You'll want an eyeful—yes, this is a riot of ACTION, LOVE and RED BLOOD!
Right! Take the family—or the girl.

PART ONE The Awakening CHAPTER I Groping in the Dark.

The convict gang had a pleasant surprise to work today. Their road building had taken them some miles from the scattered outskirts of Walla Walla, among fields green with growing barley.

The convicts themselves were in a genial mood, easily moved to wide grins; and with a single exception they looked much like any other road gang. Curiously enough, whenever the warden's thought dwelt upon the inmates of his prison, there was always one wind-tanned, vivid face, one brawny, towering form that seemed to demand individual consideration. The man who was listed on the records as Ben Kinney was distinctly an individual.

"...hat's the queerest case we ever had here at Walla Walla," Sprigley told his fellow guard, as they watched the man's pick swing up in the air. "Sometimes I wonder whether he ought to be here or not. Look at that face—he hasn't any more of a criminal face than I have."

The other guard, Howard, scanned his companion's face with mock care.

"Now let me tell you how they happened to catch him. Maybe you heard—he and Dago Frank were in the act of breaking into the Western-Danish Bank. They were in the alley, in the act of jimmying a window, and all at once Kinney straightened up, as if something had hit him and let the jimmy fall with a thump to the pavement. He put his hands to his head, like a man with a headache. And the next instant a cop came running from the mouth of the alley."

"Kinney was heled, but he didn't even pull his gun. Now let me tell you another queer thing. You know, the chief has started a system here to keep track of all the prisoners. He has them all fill out a card. Well, when this man Kinney turned in his card, he had written 'Ben' on it, but the rest was absolutely blank."

"Mr. Mitchell thought at first that the man couldn't write. It turned out, though, that he can write—an intelligent hand, and spell good too. Then Mitchell decided he was just sulking, but I'm confident I know the answer. The reason he didn't fill out that card was because he couldn't remember."

"He couldn't remember where or when he was born, or where his folks, or where he had come from, or how he had spent his life. Amnesia—that's what the doctors call it—amnesia following some sort of a mental trouble. In the end you'll see that I'm right."

"There had been quite a northern migration lately these last spring days. The last of the water fowl had passed by now, but the northern migration was not yet done."

Ben thought about them as birds of passage, and the thought amused him. And at the sight of a small, stooped figure advancing toward him up the railroad right-of-way he paused, leaning on his pick.

Because Ben had paused, for the first time in an hour, his two guards looked up to see what had attracted his attention. They saw what seemed to them a white-haired old wanderer of sixty years or more; but at first they were wholly at a loss to explain Ben's fascinated look of growing interest.

As he paused to scrutinize the convict gang neither insolence nor fear, one of which was certainly in his face, became manifest.

Both guards were held and amazed by the apparent fact that at the first scrutiny of the man's outline, his carriage and his droll, wrinkled face, the prisoner Kinney was moved and stirred as if confronted by the risen dead.

The old man himself halted, regarding Kinney's stare. Kinney's mind seemed to be reaching, groping for some astonishing truth that eluded him.

The old man ran, in great strides, toward him. "My God, aren't you Ben Darby?" he demanded.

The convict answered him as from a great distance, his voice pool and calm with an infinite certainty. "Of course," he said. "Of course I'm Darby."

For the moment that chance meeting thrilled all the spectators with the sense of monumental drama. The convicts stared; Howard, the second guard, stared absurdly, rather guiltily, when the old man whirled toward him.

"What are you doing with Ben Darby in a convict gang?" the old wanderer demanded.

"What are you doing?" Howard's astonishment gave way to righteous indignation. "I'm guarding convicts, that's what I'm doing."

"Five years—for burglary," he answered simply. "Guiltily, too—I don't know anything more. And I can't remember—who you are."

"You don't know me?" Some of Ben's own bewilderment seemed to pass to him. "You know Ezra Melville?"

Sprigley stopped quickly to Melville's side. "He's suffering from memory," he explained excitedly. "This is the first time he ever recalled his own name."

Melville gazed at him in incredulous astonishment, then turned to Sprigley. "May I talk to you about this case?" he asked quickly. "If not to you, who can I talk to? There are a few points that I might help to clear up."

Many and important were the developments which arose from their conference. Melville's northward journey was postponed for some days, and within a week this same white-haired, lean old man was pleading his case to the governor of the State of Washington. It came about, from the same cause, that a noted alienist, Forrest, of Seattle, visited Ben Darby in his cell; and finally that the prisoner himself was taken to the capital at Olympia.

The brief inquisition that followed, changing the entire current of Ben Darby's life, occurred in the private office of McNamara, the Governor. The alienist from Seattle conducted the examination.

"You don't remember this man?" Forrest asked him quietly, indicating Ezra Melville.

Again Ben's eyes studied the droll, gray face. "With the vaguest kind of memory. I know I've seen him before—often. I can't tell anything else."

"He's a good friend of your family. I should say he was a very good friend, to take the trouble and time he has, in your behalf," Ben nodded. The explanation was beyond him.

Forrest leaned forward. "You remember the Saskatchewan River?"

Ben straightened, but the dim images in his mind were not clear enough for him to answer in the affirmative. "I'm afraid not."

Melville leaned forward in his chair. "Ask him if he remembers winning the canoe race at Lodge Pole—or the time he shot the Athabasca Rapids."

Ben turned brightly to him, but slowly shook his head. "I can't remember ever hearing of them before."

"I think you would, in time," Forrest remarked. "They must have been interesting experiences. Now what do these mean to you? Thunder Lake—Abner Darby—Edith Darby—MacLean's College—"

Abner Darby! It was curious what a flood of tenderness swept through Ben as, whispering, he repeated the name. Since his own was Darby, Abner Darby, was, in all probability, his father; but his reasoning intelligence, rather than his memory, told him so.

The name of Edith Darby conjured up in his mind a childhood playmate—a girl with towed yellow curls and chubby, confiding little hands. . . . But these dim memory-pictures went no further: there were no larger visions of Edith as a young woman, blossoming with virgin beauty. The third name of the three, MacLean's College, called up no memories whatever.

"They'll strengthen in time, I'm sure," Forrest told him. "Put them out of your mind, now. Let it be blank!" The alienist again leaned toward him, his eyes searching. There ensued an instant's pause, possessing a certain quality of suspense. Then Forrest spoke quickly, sharply. "Wolf Darby!"

In response a curious tremor passed over Ben's frame, giving in some degree the effect of a violent start. "Wolf Darby," he repeated hesitantly. "Why do you call me that?"

"The very fact that you know the name refers to you, not someone else, shows that that blunted memory of yours has begun to function in some degree. Now think. What do you know about 'Wolf Darby'?"

Ben tried in vain to find an answer. A whole world of meaning lingered just beyond the reach of his groping mind; but always it eluded him. Forrest suddenly spoke to old Ezra Melville, and the latter put a small, cardboard box into his hands.

"I want you to see what I have here," Forrest told Ben. "They were your own possessions once—you sent them yourself to Abner Darby, your father—and I want you to see if you remember them."

Evidently this was the climax in the examination. Forrest opened the box, taking therefrom a roll of white cotton. This he slowly unrolled, revealing two small, ribbed ornaments of gold or bronze.

Ben's startling eyes fastened on them. No doubt he recognized them.

"The Victoria Cross, of course," he said slowly, brokenly. "I won it, didn't I—the day—that day I yep—the day my men were trapped—"

His words faltered then. The wheels of his memory, starting into motion, were still, once more. Again the great darkness dropped over him. Yet to Forrest the experiment was an unqualified success.

"There's no doubt of it!" he exclaimed. He turned to McNamara, the Governor. "His brain is just as sound as yours or mine, with the right environment, the right treatment, he'd be on the straight road to recovery."

TRACTOR CLASS DATES ARE GIVEN

Six one-week tractor schools will be held during the months of December, January and February by the University of California extension service, according to announcement by Farm Advisor Wahlberg.

These schools are to be located in communities where the number of tractors used will warrant them and where there is a strong demand for such instruction. Due to the extent of interest in the tractor school located in Santa Ana last year, arrangements have been made for holding one this year. A registration fee of $2 will be charged each student taking the course.

To Cover All Phases. The courses will consist of lectures, demonstrations and practical work in adjusting, repairing and overhauling. About two hours each day will be spent in lecture demonstrations, covering such subjects as engine parts and principals of operation, fuels, carburetor, magnet, cooling systems, lubrication, transmission of power, tractor operation, tractor management, adjusting, etc. Practice work will be given the remaining six hours in the shop. This will consist of shop demonstration in adjusting, repairing, trouble shooting and overhauling of used tractors.

The shop work will be divided into three parts: First, bench repairing, work on machine or tractor parts. Second, adjusting, timing and trouble shooting. Third, overhauling of used tractors.

Course Covers Week. This course in each community will cover a period of one week, commencing Monday morning and closing Friday evening. The date set for Orange county is from January 29 to February 3. As only a limited number of tractors can be overhauled at these schools, those wishing to have their tractors overhauled should list their application at the farm advisor's office immediately. Those wishing to attend the school should register immediately as there is only a limited number of applications can be accepted as it is felt that a maximum of 80 in attendance is all that can be accommodated.

NEW PRESIDENT IS SELECTED BY P. T. A.

VILLA PARK, Dec. 19.—The P. T. A. held their regular meeting at the school Friday afternoon with a fair attendance. The president, Mrs. John Holditch, resigned owing to illness in her parents' family and Mrs. C. O. Thomson was elected president and Mrs. J. M. Gillogly, president-elect.

The Christmas committee reported on what they had done.

Mrs. J. M. Gillogly gave an interesting review of the book she had read, "Misunderstood Children."

The school children will give their Christmas program at school Friday at 1:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Harwood and their mother, Mrs. Minnie Harwood, of Chicago, arrived Saturday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Billingsley. Mrs. Harwood and Mrs. Billingsley are sisters.

Willard Smith, Irving Clark, F. C. Will, Holditch, Couger Thomson and George Lee spent Saturday at Bob Shaw's where George Lee installed a radio set.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Robb of Santa Ana called on Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Adams Sunday. Mrs. Adams, who has been ill for some time, was improved.

Adams slipped and hurt his back. He is not laid up but suffers when he moves around.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Walsh and Mrs. Hanselman of Compton were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Linn O. Hanselman Sunday.

Emmie Rice, a young year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rich, was taken to the county hospital Sunday morning. She is reported as having typhoid fever.

BIRTHDAY OCCASION FOR SURPRISE PARTY

VILLA PARK, Dec. 19.—Thursday evening, Mrs. Ellen Holditch was given a surprise dinner party at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Knuth, on the occasion of her sixty-seventh birthday anniversary. Huge bouquets of poinsettias were the decorations used in the living rooms while the centerpiece on the dining room table was a Christmas tree covered with snow and lights. Places were laid for 14 adults while the children had a table by themselves. Each family contributed one dish for the dinner. The table cleared for the second course the lights were turned out and a large birthday cake, beautifully decorated in pink and white, with lighted candles, was set in front of the guests.

It was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Rasch. Mrs. Holditch was the recipient of several other gifts from guests.

Those present were: Mrs. Ellen Holditch, Margaret, Will and Bronson Holditch, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Rasch, Jack, Frances, Ann and Elizabeth Rasch, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Holditch, Mr. and Mrs. W. Knuth, Villa Park; Mr. and Mrs. George Holditch, Miss Ida May Clarke, Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. George Carriker of Orange.

Mrs. G. T. Taylor of Beach, N. D., arrived Friday to visit with her aunt, Mrs. White.

Charles Reisch came down from Los Angeles Friday and will spend the Christmas vacation at his home here.

Free trip to Santa Fe Springs. Phone 533. We will call for you. Are-Bee.

LIONS AT ANAHEIM TO HELP ENTERTAIN STATE CONVENTION

ANAHEIM, Dec. 19.—The members of the Lions club of Anaheim will assist in entertaining the 1200 Lions delegates expected at Santa Ana next May when the California Lions' convention will be held, according to an announcement.

Although no definite plans have been made yet for Anaheim's cooperation in the program, it is expected that an "Anaheim Day" similar to the one held here during the recent realtors' convention will probably be one of the features of the conference.

Huntington Beach will also assist in the entertainment and Santa Ana Lions are planning to arrange the program so that all business may be discussed at the sessions during the day, leaving the evenings for amusement.

The Long Beach club has offered its assistance, it was stated, and will entertain the delegates with a banquet at the Virginia hotel and a "Pike Party." It is also expected that some of the guests will be housed at Long Beach during the meeting, although every available room at the Santa Ana, Fullerton and Anaheim hotels will be reserved for the delegates.

OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS VISIT LAGUNA BEACH FOR WEEK-END PLAYS

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips and a number of the actors in "The Yellow Jacket," motored down from Santa Ana Saturday night to attend the entertainment given by the Laguna Beach Community Players.

Other out-of-town people noticed in the audience were Benjamin B. Hampton, Anthony Anderson and W. A. Swan of Los Angeles, and Walmesley Lenhart of San Juan Capistrano.

Miss Jessie Washburn and Miss Leota Way went to Santa Ana Wednesday to attend the matinee performance of "The Yellow Jacket."

R. Clarkson Colman holds the record for duck shooting in Laguna—having killed ten canvas back ducks out of eleven—on a recent hunting trip.

Roy Silva of Honolulu, and Robert Simpson of New York were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Chalmers, Wednesday.

Miss Leota Way spent two days in Los Angeles last week as the guest of Mrs. Montague Lever.

Mrs. G. G. Carter and daughter, Bettie, of Rochester, N. Y., are occupying the cottage of Major William of Santa Ana.

Miss Jane Louise Underwood and Claude Bronner entertained at bridge Thursday night. Those who enjoyed their hospitality were Dr. and Mrs. Fuller, Miss Jessie Washburn, Miss Alice Parker, Robert Parker and H. Van B. Altman.

Madam Ann Dare will be the guest of Mrs. B. Davis of Hollywood this week.

Mrs. Louisa Holmes, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. William Clapp, has returned to her home in Lankershim.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Johnston of Los Angeles, are preparing to make extensive alterations in their Laguna Beach property, "Heartsease," which, after having been turned around until it faces the boulevard, will be converted into a two-story house. A new cottage also is to be built adjoining it.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Perry of Hollywood, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Purpus.

Mrs. Mary E. Felthous, who has been the guest of Mrs. Ella Lillian Taylor for the past fortnight, returned to Los Angeles on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Peterson of Santa Ana, made their usual visit to their Laguna Beach home this week "to feed the gold fish."

At the last regular meeting of the Southern California Woman's Press club in Los Angeles Tuesday, Mrs. B. D. Peterson of Santa Ana and Laguna Beach, gave a most graphic description of her recent sojourn in Panama.

The attractive new studio-home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Clarkson Colman was the scene of a "house warming" party Wednesday night. Those invited to celebrate the "hanging of the crane," were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Chalmers, Mr. and Mrs. Edward DeAlma, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Cravath, Mr. and Mrs. Hiel Rider and Mr. and Mrs. Brayton Norton.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kerble and daughter, Emma, of Portland, Ore., who have been camping in the Yock grove for the past five weeks, left Monday morning for San Diego, where they will remain a week before returning to their home in Portland.

EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Dec. 19.—Aaron Hudleston, our oldest citizen, has passed away. He was a life long member of the Friends church and an honorary member of the W. C. T. U. for many years and a man at all times interested in philanthropic work. He was connected with Indian work in what is now Oklahoma.

Mary Brubaker of Whittier College and Josephine Brubaker of Berkeley are home for the holidays.

The Misses Nell Crist, of Long Beach and Elsie Crist of La Habra were week-end visitors at home.

The first community supper held Friday night was a surprise. The weather was so inclement and some were sick. About 100 were present. Mr. Reed had some lantern slides which added much to the life of the occasion.

The Christmas programme is to be Sunday evening. It will be a white gift Christmas.

Treat your friends at Orange county tables. Are-Bee Syndicate No. 2.

BEACH PLAYERS PLEASE CROWD SATURDAY

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 19.—The Laguna Beach Players, with some of the most talented actors of "our village" in the cast, presented at the Community club room, Friday and Saturday evenings, two one-act plays to appreciative and enthusiastic audiences. Every seat in the "little theater" was occupied.

The story of life told in a one-act play was effectively done in "The Slave With Two Faces," a beautiful allegory, written by Mary Carolyn Davis. It was the first play on the program and was admirably interpreted by Amie Gayne Peake as "Life" and by Eva Lenhart, who feared life and perished, and Kay Swan, who defied it and claimed the best that it could give.

The stage setting, indefinite in form, the delicate rain-bow colors used in the lighting of the background were particularly artistic and effective, as Life, veiled in gray, appeared on and disappeared from stage. Equally satisfactory was the setting for the brighter colored costumes of the other actors.

The second play, "The Anonymous Letter," was a fearful comedy by Kenyon Hopkins in which the disillusioned wife was played by Hedwig Boyman remarkably well, the erring husband by Harlan Duran, with great naturalness. Brayton Norton, the postmaster of Laguna Beach "ran true to form" and proved himself equally affable as a milkman.

Mrs. Mary Whipple at the piano and Miss Josephine Hills, violinist, supplied the music for the occasion. Particularly enjoyable was "Barcarole," composed by H. J. Tauder of Los Angeles, and dedicated to the musicians of the Laguna Beach Community club.

Victor Rankin, a favorite with Laguna audiences, sang "At Dawning" and as an encore a dinky lullaby.

Margot Sangster's "Gipsy Beggar" dance was cleverly done, and predicted success for her in the profession.

Although this is but the third dramatic entertainment given by the Laguna Beach Players, the organization is becoming a factor in the social life of the village.

Credit is due the manager-director, Madam Ann Dare, whose worldwide experience in play writing and producing makes her valuable to the club, and whose untiring efforts to arouse more interest in the affairs of the Community club, which the Players is a section, and to awaken a spirit of co-operation, are already bearing fruit in as much as several heretofore not interested have asked to have a part in the next production staged.

EIGHTEEN CANDLES ON BIRTHDAY CAKE

BOLSA, Dec. 19.—Sunday was Lucile Radford's eighteenth birthday anniversary. Her grand-mother, Mrs. Shurtz, her sister, Mrs. Esther, gave her a birthday dinner. The table was prettily decorated with purple violets. A delicious birthday cake trimmed with white and pink rosebuds with a candle to mark each year, was the center of attraction. Covers were laid for the following guests: Miss Mildred McNeal, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. John Shutt, Jr., and Ross Nichols of Huntington Beach; Miss Dorothy Durkee, Newport Beach; the honoree, E. G. Radford, Esther, her mother, Mr. and Mrs. Shurtz, Sr. The evening was pleasantly spent visiting and interspersed with music.

Miss Radford received a number of pretty and useful gifts.

Misses Della and Laura Stroud of Pomona were week-end guests at the E. A. Gardner home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gardner and family motored to Ontario Monday to call on relatives.

Cecil Coombs of Brea called at the J. A. Ross home recently and took his children, Audrey and Cecil, home with him for a few days.

The B. C. T. club held their second meeting at the Bolsa school house Friday evening.

E. G. Radford started work in the oil fields at Huntington Beach Monday morning.

Gus Ward has rented his ranch south of Bolsa to a Japanese.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

ATTORNEY SANDSTONE IS CALLING FOR ME WITH HIS CAR - HE CALLED AND SAID HE WOULD TAKE ME TO A PLACE THAT I COULD JUDGE FOR MYSELF ABOUT TOM'S ACTIONS -
IF IT'S AT THE COURT HOUSE -
I WON'T GO IN!
HE WON'T DRAG ME INTO ANY OLD COURT!

WELL, MRS. DUFF I HAVE THE DOPE ON YOUR HUSBAND - I KNOW JUST WHAT HE'S BEEN UP TO - NOW KNOW WHERE HE'S BEEN GOING AND JUST WHAT HE'S BEEN DOING -

LOOK AT THAT NEW HOUSE JUST COMPLETED - IT'S A PRETTY PLACE, ISN'T IT?

WELL, THAT NEW HOUSE IS YOURS! A CHRISTMAS PRESENT FROM TOM TO YOU -
THE EVENINGS THAT HE WAS AWAY WERE SPENT WITH

EVENING SALUTATION
Gratitude is one of the rarest of virtues.
—Theodore Parker.

FOR THE SAKE OF HUMANITY

There is no such thing as a quota in Christmas seals. The effort, it is true, may be to raise no less than a certain amount, in Santa Ana or in any other city in the United States, but in a cause such as this is represented by the Christmas seal there is no limit as to how much ought to be raised.

The Christmas seal represents the crusade of humanitarians of America to fight tuberculosis in every way that tuberculosis can be fought. First of all, the aim is to educate—to educate those who have tuberculosis that they may help themselves toward a cure and that they may not spread the disease to others. Its purpose, too, is to aid in the care of tuberculosis patients.

There is and can be no measure of the tremendous amount of good that has been done with the money that has been raised through the sale of Christmas seals. A few figures will make the value of the work during the past fifteen years better understood:

In the beginning of the first seal sale there were only 100 hospitals and sanatoria for the treatment of tuberculosis. Today there are 700 with 63,000 beds and 550 clinics in the United States. At the first seal sale the death rate from tuberculosis was 200 people in every 100,000 population. Today it has dropped to 114 per 100,000.

In California in 1914, the first organized seal sale was carried on. The death rate was 189 persons per 100,000 and today it is 151 per 100,000. Every town and county in California has an organized program for the control of tuberculosis; the nurses, open air schools, clinics, children's camps, preventoria, nutrition work, occupational therapy in the hospitals, help for patients, dental clinics and all the educational work that has carried California into the front ranks with its program, have come largely as the result of Christmas seals.

Santa Ana has always taken a goodly share of Christmas seals, and the city has reason to feel that it has had an integral part in this great work. The sale this season ought to go far beyond any previous season's sale.

You can't do your Christmas shopping early now, of course. Still, if you did, it today, you would be doing it earlier than if you didn't.

DON'T KILL THE CHILDREN

There is only one way in which auto drivers can safeguard themselves against the haunting horror of having killed a child—

And that is to drive past children so slowly that even the most reckless act on the part of a child cannot take the driver unawares.

Many children are being killed and injured by automobiles. It is a big problem, with motor traffic as it is, how to protect them. Teachers and parents try to train them to be cautious, but some youngsters always will be heedless.

Warning signs for drivers accomplish a good deal. It is customary in many localities to put up such signs as "School. Drive Carefully." Some places will take such a notice, erect it on a standard, and put it in the center of the street where a driver must see it. Oak Park, Illinois, recently put up 50 signs, each reading, "Don't kill a child."

It is a terrible thing for an automobile to run over a child. A driver who does it, if he has any sensitiveness at all, will be haunted for a long time by the horror of it. The way to avoid such an experience, let us repeat and emphasize, is to run so slowly past children that even if they do some heedless thing, the car can be stopped in time to avoid accident.

Texas claims the record for road-building this year. But mileage alone doesn't prove anything. In judging a modern road, multiply the length by the depth.

FOR A BETTER WORLD

Glenn Frank, editor of the Century Magazine, says the world needs a great spiritual and intellectual leader to blaze the way to a finer civilization. He submits these suggestions as the main things needed:

1. "Political nationalism," by which he means "flag-flapping flapdoodle," must give way to "cultural nationalism"—intelligent patriotism, without cheapness or arrogance.
2. Along with this finer nationalism of the spirit there must be economic internationalism.
3. Politics must be "rationalized," with the bunk and catchwords eliminated and government made scientific and businesslike.
4. Autocratic industry must be made democratic.
5. Business must be "liberalized," the only sound business being sound socially.
6. Education must be practical, making the student "at home in the world."
7. Religion must be as much at home in the office as in the cathedral.
8. The race must be well bred, but without "the eugenics of the barnyard."

Here is a rather large contract, calling indeed for a great leader if the world is to be converted to it all at once. But great transitions are seldom sudden, and a superman may not be essential.

The world is gaining now, in all directions, in spite of pessimistic statements that it is going to the devil. Society as a whole, not led by one man but urged on gently by ten thousand inconspicuous men and women of insight and faith, may be its own savior.

COMPLIMENTARY CARRIERS

The railroads of the Middle West have been invited to take part in the conference of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway commission and representatives of eight states particularly interested in the project. This is an eminently sensible move.

Some opposition to the project has come from the railroads fearing that their transportation activities would be seriously injured by the opening of such a water route from the heart of the country to the Atlantic ocean. Sponsors of the project, however, have argued that there is enough carrying to be done to make use of all the facilities of the railroads and all the new water facilities proposed.

It does not require the word of an expert to discover that greatly improved transportation is one of this nation's most urgent needs. In view of this fact it is reasonable to expect that the respective operations of the rail and water routes will be complementary rather than competitive.

A POET IN POLITICS

William Butler Yeats, the Irish dramatist and poet, is getting into politics. He is the same Yeats who said once upon a time, to an American audience:

"I have never voted in my life. A man cannot do his duty to art if he wallows in the dirty stream of politics."

Evidently Mr. Yeats is finally making up his mind that there is no more dirt in politics than there is in art, and that in either case, the thing for a person of high ideals to do is not to stand haughtily aloof but to plunge in and help clean up the mess, if there be a mess.

GUARD AGAINST FIRE

Let there be no fires in Orange county this Christmas.

We have learned a great deal about the dangers of candles and fluff decorations and cotton-covered coats for Santa Claus. We use a good deal more care about those things than we did a quarter of a century ago.

But there is always an element of danger at Christmas tree celebrations, even though electric globes are used instead of candles.

It behooves each of us in arranging the tree, to keep in mind that fire is an ever present menace. It takes, perhaps, but one misstep, one thoughtless moment, one bit of carelessness to bring suffering and grief, to turn an occasion of joy into one of pain and sorrow.

Volume of Building

Pasadena Star-News
The volume of building throughout the United States is enormous and is increasing. According to Bradstreet's, the total of building in 181 cities for November—a short month, with a holiday—was more than $205,000,000. This is but a fraction of the country's total. It should be remembered, as this covers only 181 cities, and not the whole United States. Perhaps a grand total of $300,000,000 is represented monthly in building construction in the United States. This means more than $3,000,000,000 annually expended in new building in this country.

The world has never witnessed such volume of construction as has been registered in the United States in the last three years. Besides the stupendous amount of building required normally to meet the needs of the constantly increasing population of the United States, there is the deficiency of construction of World War years to be met—a period when the shortage of housing in this country became very pronounced. It is evident that this dearth of housing has not been overcome wholly, even though there has been feverish activity in building all over the country for the last three years. Building will continue in huge volume for an indefinite period, from present indications.

Oregon Against Graft

Long Beach Press
President Oregon is resolved to end the scandalous administration in the City of Mexico. To this end, he has appointed a special health bureau, which is to be free from all political ties. This step was taken as a direct rebuke, by the federal government, toward graft and incompetence in municipal government in the capital city of Mexico. The new health board is to be responsible only to President Oregon.

Huge improvement projects are to be undertaken by the new regime in the City of Mexico. The city's sanitation is to be bettered; streets are to be paved; water supply systems are to be improved; the drainage system in the Valley of Mexico is to be completed and the city's slums are to be eliminated.

The slums have existed in the City of Mexico for 400 years—the government by the early Spanish conquerors.

President Oregon is doing great things, too, in bettering conditions throughout Mexico. The republic has been more nearly completely pacified since General Oregon came into the presidency than it has been at any time since Porfirio Diaz was deposed. Real reforms are being introduced and Mexico is in fair way to prosper and progress.

Vote On Sample Bill

San Bernardino Sun
It is not news that the so-called "Lawyers' bill" went down in inglorious defeat in the election, but we may express mild surprise at the ratio by which it was defeated in this county. Among the 14 counties of the south only one of them registered more decisively against the measure than did San Bernardino.

Official figures now available for the first time make the following showing:

County	Yes	No	Ratio	Stand-
Fresno	5,668	19,256	3.4	10
Inyo	370	1,362	3.7	7
Kern	2,146	11,526	5.4	3
Kings	554	3,888	7.0	1
Imperial	1,276	3,827	2.6	13
Orange	4,703	11,841	2.5	14
Riverside	2,141	7,602	3.5	9
Santa Barbara	1,322	6,716	5.1	4
San Bernardino	3,084	18,712	6.1	2
San Diego	5,456	19,296	3.5	8
San Luis Obispo	980	3,254	3.3	11
Tulare	2,326	11,005	5.0	5
Ventura	1,144	4,874	4.3	6
Los Angeles	53,384	160,398	3.0	12
Total	84,554	283,068	3.3

The last column shows the relative standing of the counties as to the percentage vote against the measure, Kings county having the highest adverse percentage and San Bernardino County second.

The figures might furnish something of a problem to students of the why of things. Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties have the same in character of population. San Bernardino having rather more of the industrial element than either of the other two. But regardless of the similarity, their varying notions are illustrated by the fact that while San Bernardino's percentage vote against the measure was, with one exception, the heaviest among the 14 counties, Orange County is at the other end of the list, with Riverside well down, in ninth position. Of course we must not reason that attorneys are less influential hereabouts, but they do seem to cut a wider swath in Orange and Riverside. Taking the 14 counties together, the total vote was almost three to one against the bill.

Reapportionment an Issue

San Bernardino Sun

In discussing the organization of the approaching Legislature, The Sun some days since made mention of the probability that the question of reapportionment of the State will be an important one at Sacramento after the first of January. It will not have been forgotten that the Legislature of two years ago wrestled with the problem but took no action, in part because Congress had not awarded California any new representation, and in part because the "country" members of the Legislature are opposed to surrendering control to three big counties.

The same question will be to the fore again at Sacramento, whether or not Congress takes action. When the Washington Solons do move, California is likely to get two new Congressmen, might get three, and possibly might be given four, it all depending on the ultimate size of the House of Representatives. But it is not the Washington representation that is likely to tie the Sacramento law-makers into knots. It is the situation here at home, and Othman Stevens, in the Examiner makes his suppositions "Colonel" say that "it will be the main scrap" at the capitol, and he furnishes the basis for the guess that it will be in evidence in the very organization and may help to determine the election of a speaker in the Assembly. This from Othman Stevens "Town Talk" in the Examiner:

"Charlie Toll will be one of the close ups to Governor Friend Richardson," said the Colonel yesterday.

"Charlie was the first Richardson man in the city, and if the Governor-elect is as wise as he looks he will consult with the only banker in town who wears Hughes whiskers."

"Had a talk with Charlie today and he agrees that reapportionment will be the main scrap at the next session of the Legislature."

"So of course he is strong for Frank Merriam for Speaker."

"He thinks Richardson should have a Speaker who is with him and who will stand up for the full legislative quota for Los Angeles under reapportionment."

"But I take it that Richardson will not be found ardent for reapportionment, for he'll probably train with the 'Farm Bloc' in the Legislature."

"Have we a 'Farm Bloc' in California? Just as strong a one as there is in Congress, and it is determined that the cities shall have no representation."

"Under the constitutional provisions of apportionment of legislators, according to population, Oakland, Los Angeles and San Francisco would have 43 of the 80 members of the Assembly."

"Sure, it will be some fight to get them."

Get that "full legislative quota for Los Angeles," which also means the absolute control of the Legislature in the hands of the members from three counties, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda, and the rest of the familiar story, addition, division, and to hell with the rest of the State.

It is just that conviction that is influencing a lot of the legislators from the "cow counties" to lack enthusiasm over the speaker candidates of either Merriam of Los Angeles County or Rosendine of San Francisco, and other parts of the State are under obligations to "the Colonel" for his frankness.

Worth While Verse

CHRISTMAS EVE AT SEA

A wind is rustling "south and soft,"
Coasting a quiet country tune,
The calm sea sighs, and far aloft
The sails are ghostly in the moon.

Unquiet ripples lisp and purr,
A block there pipes and chirps 't' the sheave.
The wheel-rope jars, the reef-points stir
Faintly—and it is Christmas eve.

The hushed sea seems to hold her breath,
And o'er the giddy, swaying spars,
Silent and excellent as death,
The dim blue skies are bright with stars.

Dear God—they shone in Palestine
Like this, and you pale moon serene,
Looked down among the lowering kine
On Mary and the Nazarene.

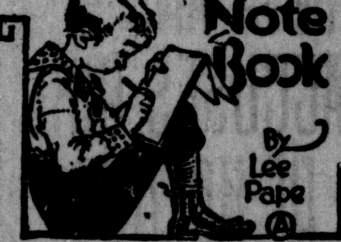

The angles called from deep to deep,
The burning heavens felt the thrill.
Startling the flocks of silly sheep
And lonely shepherds on the hill.

Tonight beneath the dripping bows
Where flashing bubbles burst and throng,
The bow-wash murmurs and sighs and sighs
A message from the angels' song.

The moon goes nodding down the west,
The drowsy helmsman strikes the bell;
Rex Judeorum natus est,
I charge you, brothers, sing Nowell, Nowell,
Rex Judeorum natus est.

Little Benny's Note Book

Me and Sid Hunt both had 2 cents each, and we was talking about the different things we could buy and the different things we couldn't and wished we could, me saying, Lets go around to Mommy Simminses and look in the window and see if there es any specials.

Wich we did and wich there was, being a sine saying, Large sour balls, special today, 3 for a cent.

G, 3 for a cent, thats the cheapest Ive ever saw them, G wizz I wish I had about a dollar to invest, 3 for a cent, O boy thats grate, herry I sed.

And we started to go in with our 2 cents apeece, and Sid sed, Hay, wate a minnit, wats a hurry, wat do you say we go to the High Class candy store and see how meny theyre selling for a cent, maybe theyre selling 4.

G, lets go and see, I sed.

We was wawked to the new High Class candy store, being about 5 blocks, and we wawked in and wawked all the ways back to the end of the store ware you can buy things by the cent insted of the pound, the man saying, Well boys, are you going to buy the store out today?

How much is big sour balls? I sed.

A cent apeece, the man sed.

G wizz, holey smokes, good nite, a cent apeece, jimminy, Crissmas, G, good nite me and Sid sed.

Is that so? the man sed. And me and Sid went out and went back to Mommy Simminses and asked for 2 cents wath of big sour balls apeece and Mommy Simminses sed, If you had come in jest one minnit sooner you could of had them, but some boy jest bawt 5 cents wath and they were the last I had.

So we bawt jelly beans insted, not injoving them much on account of keeping on thinking of the sour balls. Proving theres no time like the present.

Defeat Temptor

An American motion picture concern recently offered the Oberammergau players nearly a million and a half francs for the film rights to the famous passion play. It was proposed to film the production to show it throughout the world.

All concerned—actors and the people and authorities of Oberammergau—were at first overwhelmed by the glittering proposal.

After sober reflection, however, the artists reached the conclusion that it was the part of dignity as well as duty to decline the magnificent offer. And, that they might be certain to resist the golden lure, they one and all hastened to the barber shop!

"Cut off our beards and hair at once!" they ordered.

The thing was done and the players, now no longer the necessary classic types, caused to be fit subjects for the camera and it thus became impossible for them to talk business with the American company.

Quixotic, no doubt, but courageous—Le Petetel Parisien, Paris.

RESIDENTS OF COSTA MESA ASK QUESTIONS; REPLY BY SUPT. J. A. CRANSTON

Editor Register—Will you kindly clear up a few points about the recent confusing high school bond election?

What is the present status of seventh and eighth grade pupils in Santa Ana. Are they high school pupils or grammar school pupils? Professor Cranston has informed us that legally there is no Junior High School district.

Can bond money voted specially for high school purposes be diverted to purchase educational facilities for grammar school pupils?

I was educated in the St. Louis schools and appreciate the advantages of well-equipped schools. I am the mother of three young children, and am opposed to 11- and 12-year-old children unnecessarily traveling fifteen miles every day for education in the seventh and eighth grades. We can, and I believe that we will make provision for domestic science and manual training courses in our own new school.

Obviously, our children cannot attend school in two places. It is manifestly unfair that we be compelled to maintain duplicate seventh and eighth grades.

FRANCES T. DODGE, Costa Mesa.

J. A. Cranston's Reply

The above communication was submitted to City School Superintendent J. A. Cranston, and the following reply to Mrs. Dodge's questions were given:

Mrs. Frances T. Dodge, Costa Mesa, Calif.

Dear Madam:—Your letter addressed to the editor of the Santa Ana Register has been referred to me for reply.

The school law provides that the seventh, eighth and ninth grades or the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth grades may be organized into a junior high school. But in either case the seventh and eighth grades and regarded as elementary school pupils, and the high school board having jurisdiction over junior high schools in adjusting the cost of educating seventh and eighth grade pupils in a junior high school may charge against the elementary school fund the average cost per pupil in the first six grades of the elementary schools.

For example, the Santa Ana high school board in maintaining our junior high school charges two-thirds of the expenses against our elementary school fund and one-third against the high school fund. You will observe from this that no part of the cost of educating our seventh and eighth grade pupils—and this includes those seventh and eighth grade pupils attending our junior high school from the elementary schools in our high school training courses in our own new school.

In answering your last question, namely, "Can bond money voted specifically for high school purposes be diverted to purchase educational facilities for grammar school pupils?" I would say that the school law provides that a high school board shall have jurisdiction over a junior high school and establish and maintain the same.

I trust I have answered your questions, but in the event that I have not and there are other questions you wish to ask, I shall be pleased to try to answer them.

Yours truly,
J. A. CRANSTON.

IN THE LONG AGO

From the Register Files

DECEMBER 19, 1908

In closing its sessions the Orange County Teachers' institute asked County School Superintendent R. P. Mitchell to arrange next year for a joint meeting with institutes of other Southern California counties.

Marriage license: Thomas A. Gray and Effie A. Aubochon, both of Orange. Licensed in Los Angeles, Harry M. Ellis, Los Angeles, and Isola M. Cozad, Santa Ana.

Misses Pendry and Cooper, of the high school faculty, were hostesses to the women of the faculty and to the wives of the men of the faculty. Those present included Mesdames J. A. Cranston, E. B. Oakley, W. A. Bartlett and Longworth; Misses Ross, Gowdy, Wyant, Payton, Millward, Taylor, Youse and Thompson.

Mrs. A. E. Ott delightfully entertained the members of her Sunday school class of the Christian church. Those present were Thelma Blaw, Grace Cronenberg, Irene and Gertrude Minter, Marion Otto, Dorothy Rose, Lois Taylor, Blanche Smith, Esther Bird, Clara Wilson, Frances Oerlin, Esther and Harriet Squires and Pauline McElree.

The horses of the fire department had a run to J. M. Talcott's ranch, ten blocks out on West Seventeenth street. Sparks from some stumps were blown fifty yards to a manure pile and the barn was threatened.

At the annual meeting of the Christian church officers elected were: Elder, R. L. Freeman; deacons, T. D. Knights, Dr. F. M. Bruner, A. G. Lucas, J. A. Finley, John Frye and P. B. Lee.

The old Gowanus canal is a successor to the old Gowanus creek, which served until 1847 as a drainage outlet for a large section of Brooklyn. The old city of Brooklyn was authorized by the state legislature to lay out the canal in 1866 to a width of 100 feet, varying in depth from 12 feet at low water to 16 feet at high water.

Wharves and docks are maintained by taxing property owners along both sides of the canal, making the entire water front about three and one-third miles. The tonnage consists mostly of building material, coal, petroleum products and turpentine.—New York Times.

Adventures of The Twins

Tweekanose's Mischief

By Olive Roberts Barton

The next house the Twins went to was the Westons'.

Nancy and Nick, you know, were out collecting notes for Santa Claus. They would light on a snowy roof like two little birds, and Nick would hustle down the dark chimney while Nancy watched overhead for Tweekanose, the naughty gnome who liked to steal the notes.

"Here are two of them," whispered Nick when he had scrambled down. Nancy could just hear.

She stopped watching and helped Nick to scramble out, looking as grimy as the Chimney Sweep himself.

Now it isn't nice to read other people's letters, but it was different with Nancy and Nick. Santa Claus told them to be sure to read each letter, as they found it, so that if anything happened and it got lost, they could remember some of the things, at least, and Tommy or Dicky or Harry, or Suzy or Annie or Jane wouldn't be left altogether without things on Christmas morning.

So Nick opened one of the letters and read:

"Dear Santa Kios:
"I want a drum and a horn and a soldier suts and an engin and a baseball and an air gun, and a Claus. They would light on a snowy roof like two little birds, and Nick would hustle down the dark chimney while Nancy watched overhead for Tweekanose, the naughty gnome who liked to steal the notes."

"Humph!" declared Nancy. "They're funny things for a boy to want. She never said a word about a doll."

"Oh, listen!" cried Nick. "Here's the other note," and he read:

"Dea Santa,
"Please, sir, I want a doll and a baby buggy and a kitchen cabinet and a new muff and a toy piano and a bracelet."

"Goodness!" scoffed Nick. "A boy wanting things like that!"

Nancy took the notes and looked at them. "Somebody's rubbed the names out and changed them," she said quickly. "I'll bet you anything it was Tweekanose—the little rascal."

And so it was, my dears. Nancy fixed the mistakes at once.
